

Bartlett unconcerned

► University of Pretoria coach Shaun Bartlett (below) has revealed that he is happy with losing some of his influential players as long as they join top-flight teams. Bartlett was hired by Tuks and given a mandate to bring the team back up to the Absa Premiership and is now in his second season. Tuks sold their former captain Sibusiso Mthethwa to Platinum Stars and Lorenzo Gordinho to Bidvest Wits. "While it will destabilise us we are happy that our work is being recognised. We always tell these boys that if they work hard, football will give them everything in life," he said.

