The Centre for Mediation in Africa and the Department of Political Sciences invite you to a seminar on War in the Ukraine: Causes and Consequences, with Prof Hubert Zimmermann (Philipps University of Marburg) as speaker and Prof Chris Isike (University of Pretoria) as discussant.

The Russian invasion of Ukraine has become the most violent and dangerous conflict in Europe since World War II. It is pitting nuclear-armed Russian against the Ukraine and its Western allies which are supplying the Ukrainian side with an increasing number of sophisticated weapons. Apart from a potentially catastrophic nuclear escalation, the war has far-reaching international ramifications, for example a global food and energy crisis. This talk discusses the much-disputed origins of the war, and provides a European perspective on the Western reaction and its potential consequences.
