Hear from our consultants who have walked the journey

Temoso Masilo

"The learnership was a great start to my career. It helped me to really understand what consulting is all about and helped me hone the skills required to navigate this space well. The environment is conducive, positive and supportive. I appreciated the conversations with my career manager and coach as they gave me new perspectives when needing guidance."

Chico Vicente

"The graduate program provided me with the opportunity to sharpen my skills on a client project, with the support of decades worth of experience from the team. The support was not only on client delivery, but on the soft skills it takes to be a successful professional as well."
