BEdHons

The BEdHons degree is a postgraduate qualification. After obtaining this qualification, students may enrol for a master's degree in education. All the modules in this programme have been adapted to be offered online with strong web support.

Minimum admission requirements

Academic requirements

Candidates can be admitted if they hold one of the following qualifications:

- A bachelor's degree and a teacher's diploma/Postgraduate Certificate in Education (e.g. BA + PGCE)
- A four-year composite degree in Education (e.g. BEd, BAEd)

A holder of another M+4 teacher's diploma, such as a former HED, must first complete a new Advanced Diploma at Level 7 in a cognate field before they can be considered for entry to the BEdHons.

Additional requirements

Prospective students must complete information and communication technology (ICT) training, offered by UP, either online or by contact, for the BEdHons degrees. This training includes familiarising students with the Blackboard online learning platform used by the University (clickUP). Prospective students must have access to a computer, as well as to the internet and must sign a declaration stating this.

Study programme

The study programme is designed to enable students to complete two modules in a programme cycle. The modules are combined into four blocks of two modules each.

In line with new national requirements for an honours degree, all students must successfully complete a research proposal and a research report in order to qualify for the degree.

Duration of programmes

The minimum study period is two years (with four final assessment opportunities) and the maximum study period is five years (with ten final assessment opportunities).

Programme cycle

The academic programme runs in six-month cycles: October to March, and April to September. During these months, students are actively engaged in the academic content and activities of their relevant modules. Although a student has five years to complete a programme, it is better to work hard and finish one's studies in the shortest period of time.

Learning material

Once a student has enrolled for a programme, they will gain access to all learning resources online.

Language

The BEdHons degree is offered in English. Correspondence between the University and students will only be in English.

Student support

The University has developed extensive academic support structures to help students succeed in their studies.

These include the prerequisite clickUP orientation session, online tutorial support, short contact sessions, assignments, e-library facilities, SMS messages and an enquiry call centre service.

Virtual contact sessions

In a six-month cycle, three virtual contact sessions will take place during the COVID-19 lockdown period.

They will usually take place on a Saturday in order for students to attend off-campus:

SCS 1: Orientation

SCS 2: Consolidation

SCS 3: Preparation for final assessment

The presentations will also be available online after the contact sessions. It is important that you register for the contact sessions for each module. The registration form will be available on Google forms. You will receive a link via SMS.

Assignments

Students must complete and submit assignments online according to the due dates stipulated in each module. The submission of all applicable assignments in each module is compulsory. It is compulsory to submit Assignment 3 as the final assessment of that specific module.

Communication by SMS

The University makes extensive use of SMS technology to communicate information to students. SMSs are sent out to inform students when to register for contact sessions, as well as to communicate reminders and general information.

Admin Booklet

Students have access to admin information booklet. Students access the Admin Booklet digitally on clickUP from the start of their studies. This booklet contains detailed information about administrative and logistical issues.

E-library

Each module has a dedicated e-library page that provides access to all resources required to complete learning activities.

Assignment

Assessment takes place in March/April and then again in September/October.

Assignment registration levy

An assignment registration levy is payable for each module. The levy to write the first assignment is included in the initial fee for the programme. Should a student fail a module at the first attempt, they will be given another opportunity to write the assignment in that module. However, it will be necessary to enrol for the module and pay the assignment fee again. Further attempts, if required, will be only permitted after the student has re-enrolled for the module and paid the full tuition fee. The same process will apply for the final submission of non-examination modules, for example: Research Proposal and Research Report.

Electronic learning material and study information

Distance Education programmes are offered in a blended mode. However, learning material is only available online. All distance education students enrolled at UP will therefore be able to access all the learning material and study information on the University's Learning Management System (clickUP) and the Library. This information includes assignment guidelines, learning guides and administrative letters

Enrolment

Students can apply for enrolment at any time during the year. However, final enrolment can only take place after attendance of the prescribed ICT requirements. Students must enrol before 1 September in order to complete Assignment 3 in April of the following year, or before 1 March to complete Assignment 3 in October of the same year. No late new applications for enrolment will be accepted. Application forms must be accompanied by certified copies of the student's ID document, qualifications obtained and salary advice received within the last two months. (This is only applicable for students applying for a study loan.)

Study costs

Method of payment

Payment by means of a loan from Fundi:

Students who have an appointment in the public service can apply for a study loan through Fundi. This loan is repayable over a period of up to 30 months by means of a monthly salary deduction.

These amounts are available until 30 September 2022
