

R&A Bursaries

The R&A governs the sport of golf around the world outside of the USA and Mexico and runs The Open - one of the world's great sporting events. Through the success of The Open, The R&A invests in growing men's and women's golf through its development initiatives including student golf. The University of Pretoria is one of 17 Universities which The R&A provides support to and assist with the delivery of TuksGolf programme. TuksGolf is the only University programme in South Africa to receive this support.

Students in full-time tertiary education are invited to apply for an R&A Foundation scholarship. Male applicants must hold a handicap of +1 or better, while female applicants must be two or below.

Applications will also be considered from players who have been selected for a national team or squad, even if they do not meet the handicap requirements. Past scholars include 2021 Masters Champion - Hideki Matsuyama, Champion Golfer of the Year 2018 - Francesco Molinari and Shane Lowry and 2019 British Women's Open champion - Catriona Matthew.
