The newsletter will be released on the 1st week of

The newsletter will feature content from House CA, content from various Audit and Professional Services firms, as well as Banks.

Not only will they advertise opportunities they have available for students, but they will also share inspirational stories, and run exciting competitions.

This first newsletter merely serves as an introduction to the newsletter series for this year. If you have any ideas for content you'd like to see in this newsletter, or any other suggestions, feel free to send us a Direct Message on Instagram or Facebook, or visit our office, EMS 2-88 during our office hours, to leave your ideas/suggestions.

House CA wishes all students a prosperous and successful 2020.

Orientation Week—A Recap

“Orientation week was long, but full of fun for everyone. Now getting around campus is a bit easier”

Orientation week is a chance for first years at the University of Pretoria to become acquainted with the campus, lecture buildings, and learn more about their degree from lecturers who will be taking them through the first year of their journey.

Accounting Sciences students were welcomed onto campus by a confusing biometric system at the gates (hopefully you’ve gotten used to it), followed by the Dean’s welcome at the Amphitheatre. From there, all students were led, weirdly, to the engineering building. This was the start of a grueling day of presentations from lecturers, a campus tour, and closed off with an introduction to House CA, where we handed out pencil cases to every student in attendance from the Auditor General.

Following that was the rather tense situation of the AIM tests on Tuesday, but the presentations that followed weren’t as long, and ended relatively early. The SWAT squad enjoyed their first lectures as well. On Wednesday, SNG Grant Thornton and BDO both had interactions with the students, which proved to be popular, especially for those who received freebies.

Overall, orientation week was long, but full of fun for everyone. Now getting around campus is a bit easier, and you are more familiar with all the things required of you. If you were unable to attend orientation week, or still have questions, feel free to visit House CA during our office hours to ask for help or more information.

Accounting Hoodies—Finally!

We have heard your complaints, and we have listened. Accounting Sciences students have for a long time wanted their own hoodies.

House CA is proud to announce that we will be selling hoodies to ALL BCom Accounting Sciences students who are interested.

These hoodies will be sold on a per order basis (place your order, pay, and then receive the hoodie after it has been made).

The hoodies are for sale for R360. These can be bought at our offices at EMS 2-88. Students can pay by card, or via EFT (banking details on Instagram).

Please note, students will unfortunately not be able to pay by cash for the hoodies.

We are currently running a special for the first 50 hoodies, in collaboration with audit and professional services firm Mazars.

Students can purchase hoodies for R250 during the special, while stocks last.

Feel free to come and get your hoodie today.

In with the new, and donate the old.

Every new academic year, our bank accounts are emptied as we are told to buy new textbooks.

Unfortunately, not all of us are able to get the latest edition of the textbooks prescribed for our modules.

Therefore, House CA is running a donation drive to help those who need textbooks to get access to them.

We ask all students who have old textbooks they would like to donate, to please do so.

These textbooks can be for any module, be it first, second or third year. The SAI-CA and IFRS textbooks will also be much appreciated.

If you'd like to donate, feel free to visit our office during our office hours to drop off your textbooks.

Thank you, in advance.
