Message from the Dean

The purpose of this message is to introduce you to the Faculty of Law at the University of Pretoria, of which we are very proud and which ranks as the best* in the country and in Africa and Top 80 globally.

Prof André Boraine
Dean: Faculty of Law
2 September 2019

Our vision is to strive to be an internationally recognised leader in socially relevant legal research and education in South Africa and in Africa.

In pursuing its vision, the Faculty of Law has as its mission the creation and sustenance of a research and education environment that is grounded in values of social justice and excellence.

The Faculty currently employs 70 dedicated full-time academics, of which approximately two-thirds have doctoral degrees in various fields of law. They are supported by highly motivated administrative and support staff, and together, they serve and prepare our student community for the various law-related career opportunities.

At the undergraduate level, the Faculty offers a four-year LLB degree. However, the majority of our students first enrol for a BCom (Law) or BA (Law) degree. We aim to produce LLB graduates with the required knowledge, critical thinking abilities, awareness of social and ethical responsibilities and the legal skills to follow any of the established career paths in law. With this aim in mind, the Faculty is progressively placing greater emphasis on an inquiry-led approach in teaching with a view to improving the research and problem-solving skills of our students.

At the postgraduate level, we offer extensive master's (LLM/MPhil) programmes (coursework or research) and a doctoral (LLD/PhD) programme.

Please refer to the infographics in this brochure for highlights and more information on the Faculty of Law, which should convince you that UP Law is the place to study law in South Africa.

You will also find a checklist infographic on page 19 of this brochure that will help you to gauge whether you have what it takes to become a successful law student and legal professional.

We look forward to our 2021 intake of students and their contributions one day as UP Law graduates in the national and international legal arena.

Undergraduate LLB admissions regulation

General admission principles

- The closing date is an administrative admission guideline for non-selection programmes. Once a non-selection programme is full and has reached the institutional targets, such programme will be closed for further admissions, irrespective of the closing date. However, if the institutional targets have not been met by the closing date, such programme will remain open for admissions until the institutional targets are met.
- This Admissions Regulation should be read in conjunction with General Regulations G.1.1 Admission.
- In order to register for a first bachelor's degree at the University, a candidate should have completed the National Senior Certificate (NSC) or equivalent qualification, and meet the minimum requirements for admission to bachelor's degree study.
- Candidates must also comply with the particular subject and level requirement as well as with the minimum Admission Point Score (APS) for the relevant programme.
- The APS calculation is based on a candidate's achievement in six 20-credit NSC-recognised subjects with bands 1 to 7, indicating the scale of achievement. Thus, the highest APS that can be achieved is 42.
- Please note that Life Orientation is a 10-credit subject and is excluded from the calculation when determining the APS.
- Grade 11 results are used in the conditional admission of prospective students.
- The final Grade 12 results will be the determining factor with regard to final admission.
- All modules will be presented only in English as medium of instruction.
- The language of communication and correspondence is English.
- Minimum requirements for admission to the relevant programmes are set out in the "Minimum admission requirements table" of this document.
- The following subject rating scores are used for calculating the APS (see APS Conversion Table below):

| Rating code | Rating | Marks % |
|-------------|-------------------------|---------|
| 7 | Outstanding achievement | 80–100% |
| 6 | Meritorious achievement | 70–79% |
| 5 | Substantial achievement | 60–69% |
| 4 | Adequate achievement | 50–59% |
| 3 | Moderate achievement | 40–49% |
| 2 | Elementary achievement | 30–39% |
| 1 | Not achieved | 0–29% |

Admission Point Score (APS) Conversion

The following table may be used to convert marks/symbols into an Admission Point Score (APS) when applying for studies at the University of Pretoria.

Other Faculty-specific information

- Applicants complying with the minimum admission requirements are conditionally admitted as they apply according to the places available. The application process will allow for diversity in admissions. Ideally, the Faculty strives to admit at least 50% first-year black (African, Indian and coloured) students. The admission process should not lead to a situation where less than 50% first-year black (African, Indian and coloured) students are admitted. If this should happen, the admissions should be adjusted to give preference to the most meritorious black (African, Indian and coloured) candidates.
- Candidates who have graduated for another degree and candidates with an APS of 38 or higher and an achievement level of at least 5 in English may be conditionally admitted after the closing date if there are places available, at the discretion of the Faculty's Admissions Committee, based on the Grade 12 results, and the complete university academic record and final certificate of conduct where applicable.

Undergraduate LLB admissions regulation

Transferring students

All transferring students, whether they have graduated or not, are admitted based on academic merit and availability of space. Application for admission must be made by 30 September and to be considered for final admission, all results and the certificate of conduct must be submitted by 31 December.

Transferring applicants

Candidates who have already completed the final Grade 12 examination as well as candidates with South African and foreign school qualifications, who were not previously registered at UP or at another university and did not graduate, may be admitted at the discretion of the Faculty's Admissions Committee, based on the candidate's Grade 12 results or complete university academic record and certificate of conduct. Candidates transferring from other universities must obtain at least 50% of the credits required for the LLB degree at the University of Pretoria and must be registered at the University of Pretoria for at least two years before an LLB degree may be awarded by the University of Pretoria.

Candidates who have registered for the BA (Law) or BCom (Law) programme at UP, have not graduated, and wish to transfer to the LLB programme may be considered by the Faculty's Admissions Committee based on the candidate's academic merit, including factors such as the candidate's final Grade 12 results, the candidate's grade point average, and the reasons provided by the candidate for applying to transfer to the LLB before first completing the BA (Law) or BCom (Law) degree.

Candidates who have previously been registered at another South African university for the LLB, BA (Law) or BCom (Law), with South African school qualifications or Cambridge school qualifications (South African candidates), who have not graduated, and who wish to transfer to the LLB degree at UP may be admitted on application at year level 1, 2 or 3 of the LLB, depending on the law modules passed, at the discretion of the Faculty's Admissions Committee, based on the candidate's Grade 12 results and complete university academic record and certificate of conduct. Candidates who have studied at UP, discontinued their studies, and want to be readmitted to the LLB may be admitted subject to conditions set by the Faculty's Admissions Committee.

Transferring students who graduated (Closing date: 30 September)

Candidates who have previously been registered at UP or another university and who have graduated (excluding BA (Law) and BCom (Law) graduates) may be admitted at year level 1 of the LLB, if there are places available, at the discretion of the Faculty's Admissions Committee, based on the candidate's Grade 12 results and complete university academic record and final certificate of conduct.

Candidates who have been awarded a BA (Law) or BCom (Law) degree by any South African university, including UP, may be admitted on application, at the discretion of the Faculty's Admissions Committee, based on the candidate's Grade 12 results and complete university academic record and certificate of conduct. Students transferring from other universities may be admitted at year level 3 of the LLB.

UP students may be admitted at year level 1 of the 04130010—LLB after BCom (Law) and 04130011—LLB after BA (Law) programmes. UP BA (Law) and BCom (Law) graduates are guaranteed placement in the LLB programme if they completed the BA (Law) or BCom (Law) programme in 3 or 4 years.

Non-South African qualifications

(The closing date for applications for admission is 31 August)

Non-South African citizens and South African citizens with foreign qualifications must comply with all the admission requirements and the prerequisites for subjects/modules. (All such applications are submitted to the Admissions Committee of the Faculty for consideration.)

Only a limited number of non-South African candidates are admitted to undergraduate studies in the Faculty. In addition to meeting the admission requirements, admission is based on the performance in the TOEFL, IELTS, SAT or NBT, if required, in competition with other candidates who also comply with the admission requirements.

- Non-South African citizens (even if they or their parents have permanent residence or valid work permits in South Africa)
 - Citizens of SADC-countries with non-South African qualifications
 - Citizens of other countries with non-South African qualifications
- South African citizens and diplomats

It may be expected of South African citizens as well as diplomats and the children of diplomats with non-South African qualifications to write the IELTS, TOEFL, SAT or NBT so that their suitability for admission to the Faculty can be determined. However, currently the NBT is not applicable to LLB applicants.

Candidates must have completed the National Senior Certificate with admission to degree studies or a certificate of complete exemption on the basis of a candidate's non-South African ('foreign') qualifications, the so-called "Immigrant" or 'Foreign Complete Exemption'. The only condition for the 'Foreign Complete Exemption' that is accepted is 'completion of the degree course.' The exemption certificate is obtainable from Universities South Africa (USAf). Detailed information is available on the website at mb.usaf.ac.za.

Note: The A and IB HL levels are not included in the APS Conversion Table. Faculty requirements for admission based on these equivalent international qualifications are a D for the A level and 4 for the IB HL level.

The Senate Central Admissions Committee has the right to prescribe special conditions for all candidates who are granted admission based on an admissions test, to reconsider any applications for admission or to make other special arrangements.

Undergraduate programmes

LLB, BA (Law) and BCom (Law)

In 1998, the five-year LLB degree was shortened to a four-year degree. However, it is evident that not all students are able to cope with the demands of the legal profession after four years of study. Therefore it is generally recommended that students first complete either the three-year BA (Law) or the three-year BCom (Law) degree and then convert to the LLB degree, which will take another two years to complete. These students obtain two degrees in two different fields of study.

Law programmes in other faculties

Faculty of Economic and Management Sciences: BCom (Law)

The purpose of this programme is to provide a broad formative education that can lead to various career options, specifically in the corporate world. This programme is a combination of BCom and LLB subjects. The aim of this programme is to educate students as law practitioners with a broad academic background to provide an alternative route to the eventual attainment of an LLB degree.

Note: All first-year students take the compulsory fundamental modules in academic information management, jurisprudence and English.

Core modules (compulsory)

Closing date for applications

SA – 30 September
Non-SA – 31 August

Faculty of Humanities: BA (Law)

This programme meets specific training needs that emerge from the demand for employees with specific legal knowledge, but who are also schooled in aspects of the social or human sciences. The aim of this multidisciplinary programme is to train students as law practitioners with a broader academic background, to provide an alternative route to obtaining an LLB, to provide versatile training in both law and the social sciences or humanities, to improve students' insight into the extent, consequences and handling of national and global issues, and to academically equip students for a career in which research, decision-making and reporting on law-related matters are important requirements. This is a full-time programme, with specific modules offered after hours.

Core modules

Core modules are jurisprudence, Roman law, the law of persons, legal pluralism, legal interpretation, family law, public law, the law of succession, the law of contract and law of delict.

Elective modules

At first-year level, three BA subjects must be selected from the elective modules. At least one of these subjects must be a language. Two BA subjects must be selected up to second-year level, of which at least one must be a language; and one BA subject must be selected up to third-year level.

Postgraduate studies

After completing a BA (Law) degree, students may continue with an LLB or may register for an honours degree in the core discipline they chose in the humanities.

Please refer to the website www.up.ac.za/yearbooks/home for the Yearbook of the Faculty of Humanities for more information on the BA (Law) programme. The admission requirements for BA (Law) are on the same web page.

Closing date for applications

SA – 30 September
Non-SA – 31 August

Admission requirements for the LLB to gain access to the Faculty of Law

To gain access to the Faculty of Law, prospective students require the appropriate combinations of recognised National Senior Certificate (NSC) subjects, as well as specific levels of achievement in these subjects. A summary of the Faculty-specific requirements and the APS required for admission to the LLB is provided on pages 2 to 4.

Undergraduate programmes/Composition of the LLB degree

Exemption/credits for modules passed at other institutions

Students must apply on the prescribed form (available at the Faculty's Student Administration) for exemption from modules passed at other institutions. An academic record and the complete syllabus of the module concerned must accompany the application. Students who transfer from other universities must complete at least half (50%) of the modules needed for the LLB at the University of Pretoria and must be registered students of this University for at least two years before the LLB of the University of Pretoria may be conferred on them.

Examination

The examinations for first-semester modules take place in May and June, while examinations in second-semester modules take place in October and November. Every student has the responsibility to consult the official examination timetable to determine when the examinations for his or her modules will be written.

Career opportunities

A law degree does not limit graduates to pursuing careers as attorneys or advocates. There are many and varied career options available to law graduates. Examples are as follows:

A broad outline of the Attorneys' profession versus the Advocates' profession

In our modern society and under our present constitutional dispensation, laws regulate every aspect of our daily life, from the cradle to the grave. We are in constant contact with the law, ranging from drawing up a will or contract, getting married or divorced, paying or collecting debts, buying a house or new vehicle, or appearing in a civil or a criminal court, etc. This is where the legal profession comes into play to assist all members of our society.

In the private sector and under the new Legal Practice Act No. 28 of 2014, South Africa has two basic kinds of legal practitioners, traditionally referred to as either advocates or attorneys. The distinction between the profession of attorney and advocate in South Africa mirrors the distinction between the profession of solicitor and barrister in other Commonwealth countries, with attorneys having broadly equivalent roles to solicitors and advocates having broadly equivalent roles to barristers. Although both professions provide legal services, they do so in different ways.

An attorney is a general practitioner and could even be specialising in a particular field. Attorneys have a direct relationship with their clients by either assisting them with legal advice or providing a wide range of legal services. An attorney is the first port of call whenever one is in need of any legal services or if one has a legal problem. Accordingly, an attorney needs to be readily accessible to everyone and the services he/she provides need to be broad enough to cover a wide field of legal matters. To cater for these needs, some attorneys form partnerships or establish incorporated legal firms. Attorneys are required to open trust accounts where they would hold deposits from clients. In order for clients to be covered against theft of trust monies, attorneys are also required to have the trust account audited annually. If there is no queries after the audits, attorneys would be issued a Legal Practitioners Fidelity Fund Certificate which authorises such attorneys to practice for the next year and to hold trust money on behalf of clients.

Traditionally attorneys only had the right of appearance in the lower courts, that is district or regional courts and not in the high courts, as these were reserved for advocates. However, this changed in 1995 when attorneys who complied with certain requirements, were also granted the right to appear in the High Courts. In 1995 it became possible for certain attorneys to obtain the same right.

An advocate is more of a specialist practitioner and provides legal services by way of specialised expertise in various areas of the law—sometimes by providing an opinion on a legal issue based on research, but especially in the presentation of cases in the higher courts.

On 1 November 2018 the advocates' profession was also divided into two streams by the new Legal Practice Act. An advocate who provided services in the organised legal profession could until 31 October 2018 only accept a case upon referral by an attorney. The first of the two branches of the advocates is still bound by this requirement, and if an advocate belongs to this branch, such advocate may not have a trust account, and does not have to be in possession of a Legal Practitioners Fidelity Fund Certificate.

This 'non-trust account' advocate may not accept any instruction directly from any member of the public. Only an attorney may instruct this kind of advocate.

Thus, an attorney engages or contracts the services of such an advocate so that the advocate stands in an indirect relationship with the clients of the attorney. These advocates are reliant on attorneys for briefs (mandates or instructions) from attorneys. The attorney is responsible for the bill of the advocate. The client is responsible for the bill of the attorney and the advocate; therefore, attorneys recover advocates' fees from their clients.

The second branch of the advocates' profession in terms of section 34(2)(b) of the Legal Practice Act will have a trust account and is in terms of section 84(1) required to be in possession of a Fidelity Fund Certificate. These advocates are referred to as 'trust account advocates'. To become a member of this branch the advocate must first complete a legal practice management course approved by the Legal Practice Council. An advocate who practices as a trust account advocate does not have to be briefed by an attorney anymore, and may accept instructions directly from members of the public.

Attorneys may practice in partnership with other attorneys or as directors of incorporated legal firms, but advocates may only practise as sole practitioners. Advocates may not practice in partnerships or as directors of incorporated legal firms.

Public prosecutors/state advocates

Public prosecutors are representatives of the National Directorate of Public Prosecutions. They conduct prosecutions in criminal proceedings in the magistrate's courts. A public prosecutor decides whether a person should be prosecuted and presents evidence in court to prove the state's case against an accused. It is a prerequisite for all prosecutors to complete the LLB degree.

A public prosecutor may be promoted to senior public prosecutor or state advocate. There are also opportunities to move into different positions in the various structures of the National Prosecuting Authority.

State advocates appear in the High Court on behalf of the state in criminal cases. The work that they perform is similar to that of public prosecutors. State advocates prepare criminal cases and furnish legal opinions. A state advocate must have an LLB degree, be admitted as an advocate, and have undergone training with the Department of Justice and Constitutional Development. A state advocate may be promoted to the position of senior state advocate. State advocates are not obliged to become members of the Bar.

Career opportunities

Legal advisors

Legal advisors are often qualified attorneys or advocates or persons who have completed law degrees. They work in an advisory capacity at corporations, companies and other organisations. A legal practitioner cannot be employed as a legal advisor while he or she is registered on the roll of practising attorneys or advocates.

Academics

Law graduates can also elect to pursue careers as lecturers in the legal field. Law lecturers at the various universities or colleges are teachers and researchers of the law. Their duties include the facilitation of lectures, the assessment of students, conducting research for, and publishing articles and contributing to the publication of papers and textbooks in their fields of specialisation. Many lecturers have experience as practising attorneys or advocates.

A lecturer can be promoted to senior lecturer, associate professor or full professor, or may be appointed as head of a department or law school, or dean of the faculty. Legal practitioners, who are practising attorneys serving at law clinics, are also employed as lecturers in legal subjects in addition to providing legal aid to the public.

Judicial officers (magistrates or judges)

Judicial officers include magistrates and judges. Magistrates preside in the magistrate's courts, and judges preside in the high courts. A magistrate also performs various administrative functions, such as acting as a marriage officer. A magistrate may be promoted to senior magistrate, chief magistrate and regional court magistrate.

Judges are normally appointed in the various local and provincial divisions of the High Court, the Supreme Court of Appeal and the Constitutional Court. Traditionally, judges were appointed from the ranks of advocates only. After 1994, judges have increasingly been appointed from the ranks of senior attorneys and academics. Judges are appointed by the Judicial Services Commission.

How to choose between a BA (Law), BCom (Law) or straightforward four-year LLB degree?

As explained here, there are three direct routes to a recognised legal qualification and eventual admission as an attorney or advocate in South Africa with an LLB degree behind your name, given the status quo in South Africa in 2019 and excluding forthcoming amendments to the Legal Practice Act, 28 of 2014:

Admission requirements: APS = 32 | English 5 (60–69%)

Admission requirements: APS = 30 | English 5 (60–69%)

Admission requirements: APS = 32 | English 5 (60–69%) | Pure Maths 5 (60–69%)

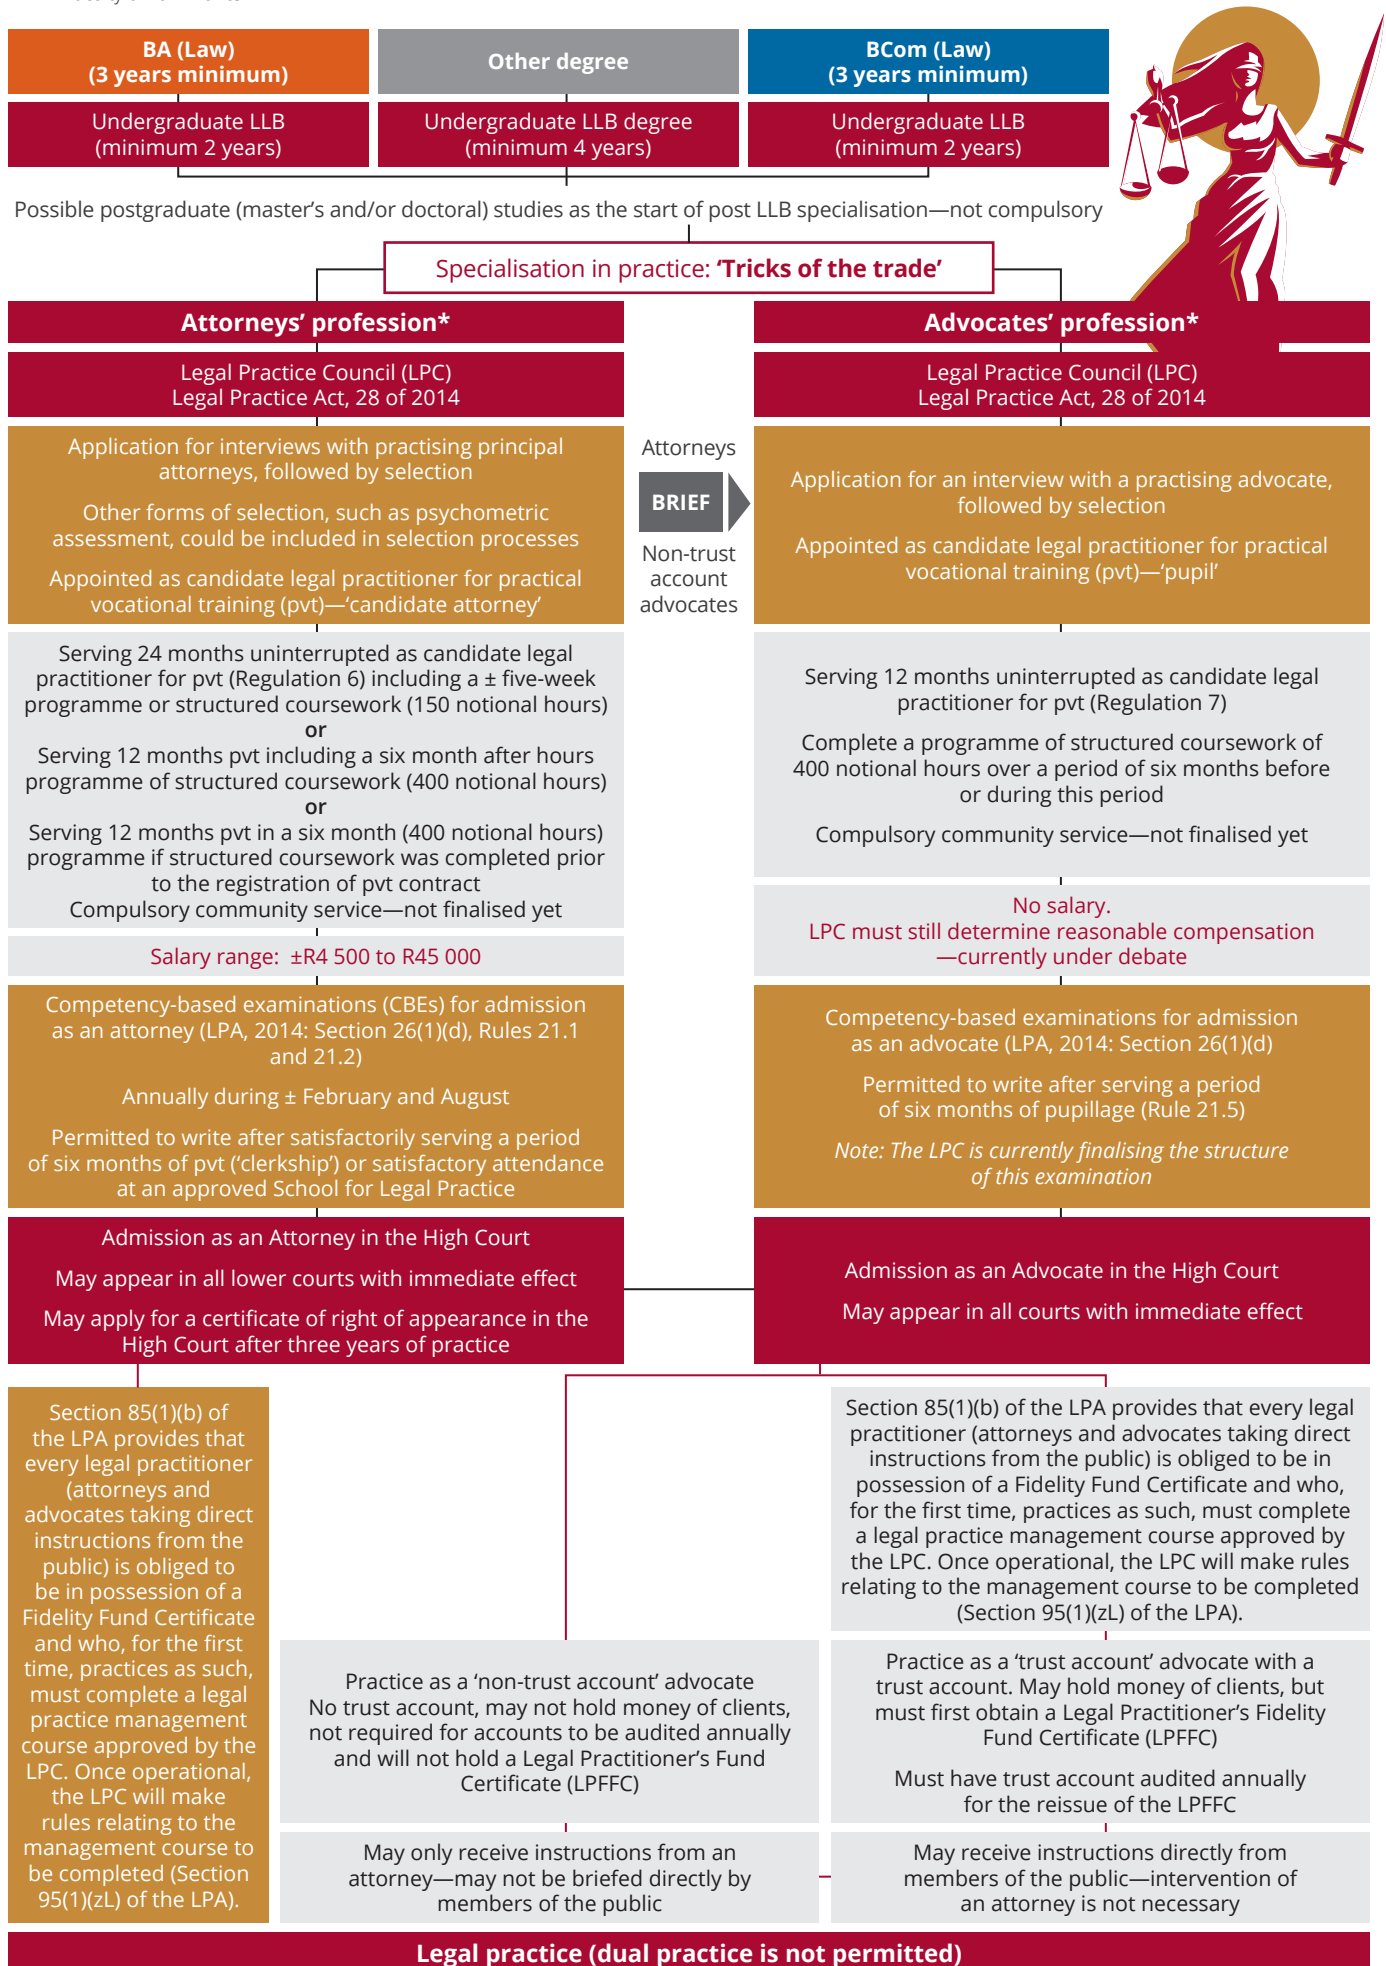

Hereafter, should you qualify, you could consider pursuing a master's degree in law (optional).

Master's programmes are presented as follows:

- Coursework: evening classes, examinations and a mini-research dissertation; or
- Correspondence: comprehensive master's dissertation.

The duration of a master's degree at UP is minimum one year.

If you are interested in a career in patent law, you should first pursue a science degree (Bachelor of Science (BSc) or Bachelor of Engineering (BEng)) degree, and/or followed by an honours degree in BSc or BEng, followed by an LLB degree, or vice versa. Here you are looking at a minimum period of seven years of studying. However, this will prepare you for the Patent Examination Board, as required in Section 21 of the Patents Act, 57 of 1978, as amended, for a career as a patent attorney. However, it is important to note that admission as a patent advocate or attorney is subject to passing the Bar Examination for pupils or the Competency-based Examination for Admission as an Attorney too. Should you be interested in this field of law, you may find more relevant information on the websites of patent attorneys, the South African Institute of Intellectual Property Law (SAIIPL) and the World Intellectual Property Organisation (WIPO).

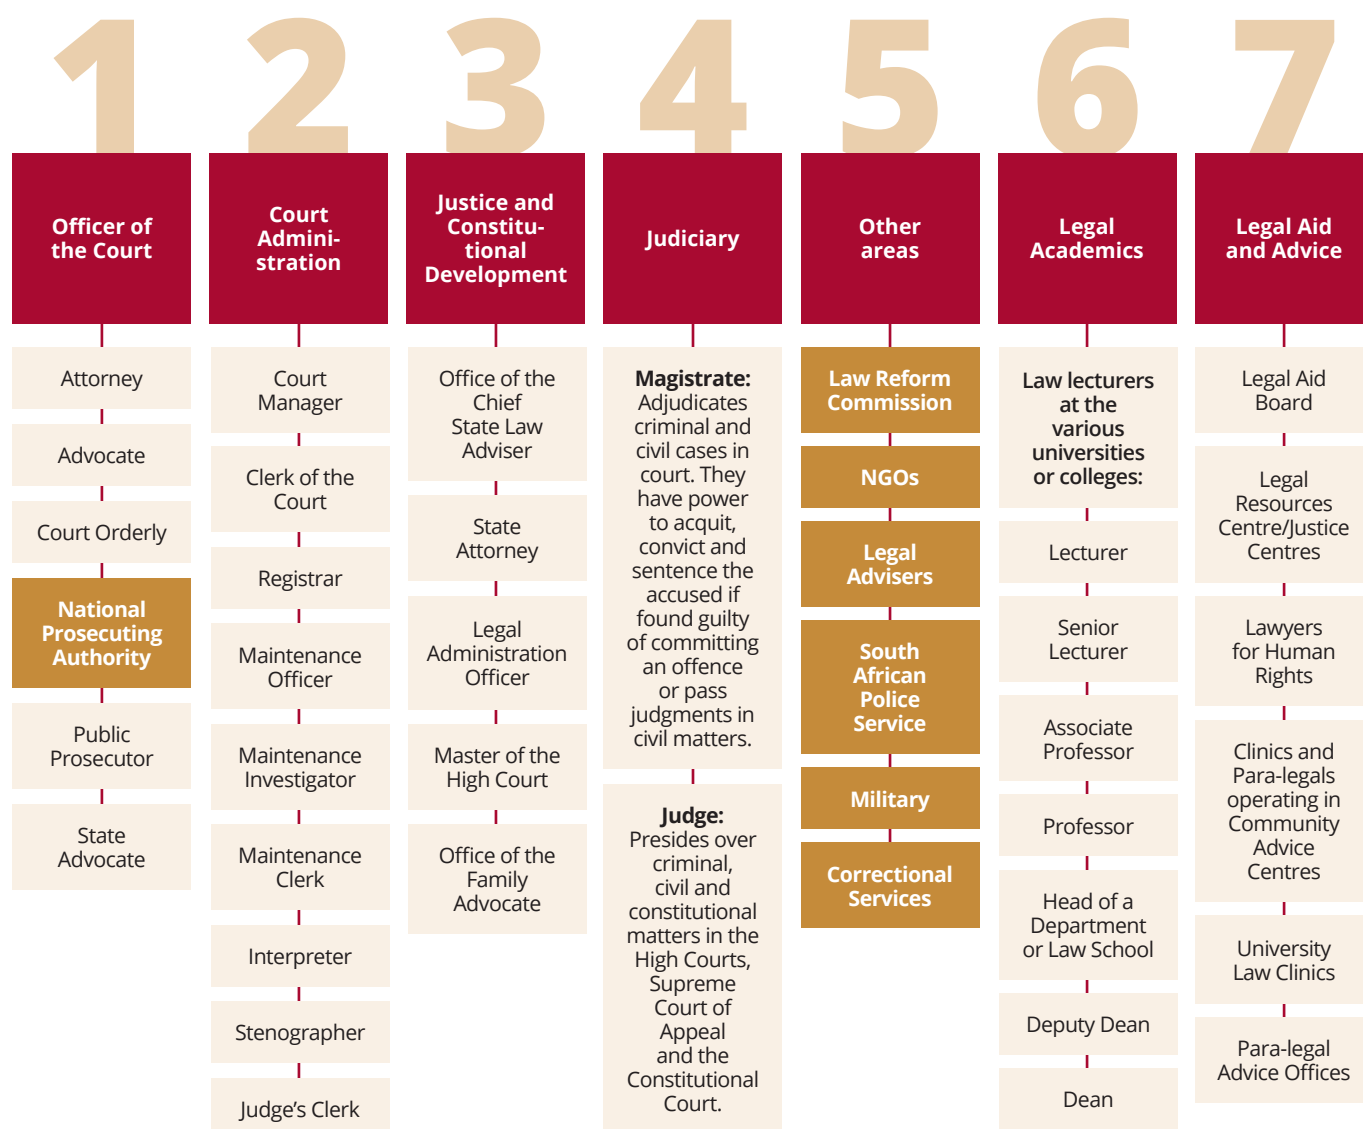

Note: Postgraduate specialisation (master's and/or doctoral studies) may be pursued at any time after completion of an LLB degree, subject to admission requirements, namely before commencement of practical vocational training (pvt), during pvt, after pvt, and in fact, shortly or many years after graduation and in practice. As always, continuing education, professional development and lifelong learning are key components for success and thus highly recommended for all legal practitioners.

| 1 | Motivation <input type="checkbox"/> I am: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Committed to a successful, honourable career in law and justice. Passionate about law, and my decision to pursue a career in law and justice is based on something concrete such as spending time in a law firm or court and taking a real interest in societal interests linked to law and justice, instead of being misled by spurious TV series. | 6 | Digest and convert loads of information, scientific data and paperwork generated by cases <input type="checkbox"/> I have the ability to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Prepare strategies that require absorbing and comprehending vast quantities of information and distilling that into something manageable, relevant, valid and useful. Employ logic to construct arguments and draft legal documents. |
| 2 | Good listening and interpersonal skills, proficiency in languages, writing ability and literacy <input type="checkbox"/> I have the ability to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Persuade people to follow advice or convince them to negotiate a resolution. Read people and figure out the best approach. Adapt appropriate communication style. Communicate clearly and effectively in court, in writing, face-to-face or over the telephone. | 7 | Mental agility and reasonable, logical analysis, assumptions and conclusions <input type="checkbox"/> I have the ability to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Draw reasonable, logical conclusions and assumptions from limited information and analyse complex facts, versions, stories, hearsay, information, testimonies, etc, to identify the most crucial issues. Think like a lawyer. 'It is a form of swift reasoning, cool logic, effortless problem-solving skills and precision analysis. The kind of calculated mental weaponry that shields you from unhelpful, inflammatory emotions while actively disarming your opponent with one slash of your sharp verbal or written blade.' |
| 3 | Logical reasoning, persuasiveness and sound judgment <input type="checkbox"/> I have the ability to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Analyse and think critically, to follow a chain of logic to identify potential trouble areas in arguments and to spot weaknesses in the reasoning of others. Exercise sound judgment in deciding the best course of action to pursue. | 8 | Problem Solver-in-Chief <input type="checkbox"/> I have the ability to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Not become overly emotional when facing problems and explore options. Approach and view problems as challenges or life experiences and proactively and objectively address them. Solve problems, using a combination of intuition and logic to create solutions and finding opportunities. |
| 4 | Value honesty and integrity <input type="checkbox"/> I am aware that: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Lawyers are subject to the highest degree of honesty, integrity and ethical conduct. I should possess intrinsic values such as work ethic, ethical conduct and integrity. I should always maintain the highest standard of honesty, integrity and fairness towards clients, courts, colleagues and all those with whom I shall come into professional contact with. | 9 | Time management <input type="checkbox"/> I have the ability to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Prioritise tasks and manage time effectively. Comprehend that the legal profession is based on procedures and limitations with accompanying prescriptions. |
| 5 | Adaptability, stamina, energy and resilience <input type="checkbox"/> I am: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Creative, determined, enthusiastic, energetic, and possess drive, emotional intelligence and perseverance. Able to manage and run a profitable practice. | 10 | Attention to detail <input type="checkbox"/> I am <ul style="list-style-type: none"> An administrator of note and have an eye for detail. After all, I realise that lawyers do detail! |
