Conditions

- Fly@UP Assist 1st Year awards are based on the average percentage obtained (not on the number of distinctions).
- Undergraduate achievement awards are made automatically to newly registered undergraduate students who meet the award conditions. Students do not apply for these awards.
- First-year students who register for studies at UP directly after Grade 12 (final school year) or who took a gap year(s) after their final school year, who meet the award conditions, will be considered.
- Students who have previously registered at a tertiary educational institution before registration at UP will not be considered for Fly@UP Assist 1st Year award. Students who registered at UP in previous years are also not considered.
- Qualifying students must be South African citizens or permanent residents in South Africa or be citizens of a SADC country.

- The average percentage for award purposes is the average of the actual percentages obtained for the six (6) best NSC/IEB/Cambridge subjects taken, excluding Life Orientation. This is for subjects taken in the final school year end exams, based on the calculations done by the University of Pretoria.
- The average percentage is not rounded off.
- Certain subjects are EXCLUDED in the calculation of average percentages:
 - Life Orientation
 - Mathematics Paper 3
 - Additional Mathematics
 - Practical Music Grade 4 and 5 (Note: Practical Music Grades 6, 7 and 8 are considered for inclusion in the calculation of the average percentage—if your music report for this subject is not part of your NSC/IEB or equivalent report, please submit your official music report to your faculty's student administration offices, before 28 January for consideration.)
- The awards are finalised based on the final marks that the University receives from the Department of Basic Education for the final school year. Results obtained for papers that have been re-marked are not taken into account for award purposes.

- Awards are fully repayable if students discontinue or terminate their studies in the relevant study programme for whatever reason during the year in which the award is made.
- Awards are finalised after the close (end) of the official registration period and in accordance with the enrolled study programme at the date when the awards are processed. Any changes after this period will not be taken into consideration. If the recipient changed the study programme prior to closure of the registration period and within the year in which the award is made, the award value is determined in accordance with the enrolled study programme as at the date of the processing of the award.

Note: Be sure to read about all the various funding opportunities on www.up.ac.za/article/2749200/fees-and-funding.

Closing dates

Once a non-selection programme is full and has reached the institutional targets, then that programme will be closed for further admissions, irrespective of the closing date. However, if the institutional targets have not been met by the closing date, then that programme will remain open for admissions until the institutional targets are met.

Careers: Large international mining companies are significant employers of geologists and other geoscientists in research, exploration and mining projects. However, employment is increasingly to be found in smaller, entrepreneurial firms (juniors). The Council also offers exciting careers for Geosciences, the CSIR, and the Council for Mineral Technology (MINTeK), DWS, and at museums, engineering firms and consulting companies. Graduates may even operate as self-employed consultants in their own firms. Laboratory specialists, for example, mineralogists, identify and examine minerals using sophisticated instruments and analytical equipment. Environmental and engineering geologists study the interaction between human activities and the geological environment, such as the pollution of soil and groundwater. They investigate geological structures and soil, and rock properties at construction sites, for example, dams, tunnels and mines, to provide valuable information before construction. They also locate and evaluate suitable construction materials. The task of the hydrogeologist is to look for groundwater and monitor the responsible exploitation of that water.
BSc (Meteorology) ² [3 years]	5	5	5	34
The suggested second-choice programme for BSc (Meteorology) is BSc (Geography and Environmental Sciences).
Careers: Meteorologists are employed by institutions involved in the study, interpretation and prediction of weather and climate-related phenomena. The South African Weather Service (SAWS), the CSIR, some universities, agricultural institutions and general industries employ meteorologists who practise mainly as specialists in the following areas: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Researchers: They research all aspects of the weather and climate to improve man's understanding of atmospheric phenomena. Atmospheric modellers use supercomputers to solve complex flow dynamic equations of the atmosphere. The monitoring of air quality and the modelling of the impact of air pollution on society are two important aspects that need to be addressed. Research on climate change is receiving increasing attention. Weather forecasters: The weather forecaster must analyse data and predict the weather by using models that are run on supercomputers. Weather forecasts are issued on different time scales, from very short-range forecasting to forecasts that are valid for months ahead, as well as seasonal forecasts. Private positions for people with this qualification include presenting the weather forecast on television. Climatologists: They manage essential data sets that contain large volumes of information gathered by the SAWS and other organisations. Consultants: Some meteorologists who work as consultants in the private sector and at universities provide specialised research services. Lecturers: A few academic positions for meteorologists and climatologists are available at South African universities. They ensure that the training of meteorologists meets international standards. The BScHons Meteorology degree, which is required to become a professional meteorologist, complies fully with the Manual on the Implementation of Education and Training Standards in Meteorology and Hydrology Volume I – Meteorology.

MATHEMATICAL SCIENCES	English Home Language or English First Additional Language	Mathematics
BSc (Actuarial and Financial Mathematics) ² [3 years]	5	7		36
The suggested second-choice programme for BSc (Actuarial and Financial Mathematics) is BSc (Mathematical Statistics).
Careers: Actuarial and financial mathematics is a popular field, with career opportunities in the business market and at investment institutions such as banks and insurance companies. Mathematical skills are essential in portfolio management and the modelling of financial risk. This programme prepares students for professional careers as actuaries or financial engineers. The activities of actuaries or actuarial technicians include long-term capital projects, designing the benefits of medical schemes, pension fund management, the determination of contributions and financial management on a sound long-term basis, the evaluation of investments in shares, property and other transactions, and the determination of the premiums and reserves for insurers' outstanding claims. Financial engineers can be employed by banks and financial institutions, brokerage firms and investment institutions. The mathematical skills of financial engineers are essential in portfolio and risk management. Activities include asset management (trading in bonds, futures and derivative instruments such as options), designing new financial products and devising strategies to control credit risk.
BSc (Mathematics) ² BSc (Applied Mathematics) ² [3 years]	5	6		34
The suggested second-choice programme for BSc (Mathematics) is BSc (Physics) and for BSc (Applied Mathematics) are BSc (Mathematics) and the BEd (Senior Phase and Further Education and Training Teaching) [Grades 7 to 12] (with elective modules in Physical Sciences or Life Sciences).
Careers: Graduates in mathematics and applied mathematics are employed by research institutions, educational bodies (universities and schools), the public sector (government and medical institutions) and the private sector (engineering companies, financial institutions and the computer industry). These graduates' training in abstract, analytical and computational thinking provides them with the background required to easily adjust to changing circumstances in the professional environment and to construct mathematical models of natural, technological and financial phenomena. Mathematicians and applied mathematicians apply, evaluate and adapt existing problem-solving techniques, or develop new techniques to solve problems.
BSc (Mathematical Statistics) ² [3 years]	5	6		34
The suggested second-choice programmes for BSc (Mathematical Statistics) are BSc (Physics) and the BEd (Senior Phase and Further Education and Training Teaching) [Grades 7 to 12] (with elective modules in Physical Sciences or Life Sciences).
Careers: The services of statisticians are needed by people in many professions, such as actuaries, economists, biologists, engineers and marketing executives. Some examples of career opportunities are: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Google Analytics use statistics to track internet users to generate leads for their recommended engines. Movement information captured by cell phones is used by statistical predictive models to predict traffic congestion and suggest faster routes. Statisticians make use of statistical methodologies to detect fraud, assist with credit-related portfolios and forecast financial-economic trends. Retail companies study customer satisfaction and customer experience by using statistical models. Spatial statistics can provide useful information about climate change, crime hotspots and rhino-poaching geographical maps. Statisticians advise animal scientists on factors affecting animal nutrition and genetic breeding plans. Government employs statisticians to understand how population demographics, health risks and other factors influence sustainable development programmes.
Candidates, who do not comply with the minimum admission requirements for the abovementioned Mathematical Sciences programmes may be considered for admission to the BSc – Extended programme Mathematical Sciences, which requires an additional year of study.
