GENERAL INFORMATION

Selection

A selection procedure takes place prior to admission to any degree programme in this Faculty. Students who do not pass a sufficient number of modules at the end of the first year of study to be admitted to the second year of study, have to apply for re-admission.

Admission

Any person who wishes to register at the University for the first time, or after an interruption of studies, should apply or re-apply for admission. Application for admission to all programmes in the Faculty of Theology closes on 30 September.

Statement of symbols or academic record

When registering at this University for the first time, a candidate has to submit a record of symbols obtained for each subject in the Grade 12 examination. Candidates who studied previously at other tertiary institutions have to submit an official academic record.

Matriculation Certificate

All undergraduate candidates who enrol at the University of Pretoria for the first time, must show their original matriculation certificate at the Student Administration of their faculty before the end of the first semester.

Medium of instruction

In conducting its business, the University uses two official languages, namely Afrikaans and English.

In formal education, the medium of instruction is either Afrikaans or English, or both of these languages, provided that there is a demand and that it is academically and economically justifiable.

However, it remains the student's responsibility to ascertain on an annual basis in which language a programme and its modules are presented. In respect of administrative and other services, a student has the right to choose whether the University should communicate with him or her in Afrikaans or English.

Bursaries and loans

Particulars of bursaries and loans are available on the website:
<http://www.up.ac.za/fao>

Accommodation

Applications for accommodation in university residences for a particular year should be submitted as from April 1 of the preceding year. Applications will be considered as long as vacancies exist, and prospective students are advised to apply well in advance. Please note that admission to the University does not automatically mean that lodging will also be available.

Welcoming day and academic orientation week

Details of the welcoming day to which all parents are cordially invited, and the subsequent academic orientation week during which all new first-year students must be present, are obtainable from the Dean of Students, University of Pretoria 0002.

Prescribed books

The lecturers will supply information regarding prescribed books at the commencement of the specific programme or module.

Amendment of regulations and fees

The University retains the right to amend the regulations and to change programme/module fees without prior notification.

Definition of terms

Familiarise yourself with the following terms. They are used generally in all faculties. Certain terms are only applicable to the Faculty of Theology.

academic literacy: the minimum level of conversational, reading and writing skills in English or Afrikaans needed to participate successfully in programmes of the University of Pretoria

academic year: the duration of the academic year as determined by the University Council

church partner: a church with which the University has concluded a formal agreement regarding the training of candidates and the provision of academic personnel

church-specific: that portion of a programme or theological instruction which takes place in terms of the regulations in the Yearbook, but which deals with the specific perspective, practice or instruction requirements of a church or denominational partner

colloquium doctum: an interview which the Dean, the Head of Department concerned and the supervisor (if required) may have with a candidate to determine his or her study background and level of scientific knowledge or competence as scholar and researcher

core module: a module that is compulsory for a particular programme or package

credit (or credit value): a value unit linked to particular learning activities; in the case of modules, the value is related to the complexity and the total number of learning hours needed to complete the modules successfully curriculum: a series of modules grouped together from different disciplines over a specified period of time and in a certain sequence according to the regulations

denominational training: supplementary theological training which is arranged by the church partner itself, and which is not subject to the regulations in the Yearbook

discipline: demarcated field of study

elective (or optional) module: a module that forms part of a package and which can be selected on an elective basis, with the proviso that enough credits are obtained on the specific year level, as required by the relevant degree or diploma examination mark: the mark awarded to a student in a module on the basis of an examination in a paper/papers, including practical and clinical examinations, where applicable. If necessary, the examination mark is finalised after ancillary examinations have been completed.

extended (study) programme: a study programme for a degree or diploma which, in accordance with the regulations, is taken over a longer period than the minimum duration of the degree or diploma

final mark: the mark calculated on the basis of the performance mark and the examination mark a student obtained, using a formula which is determined from time to time in the regulations with the proviso that should no performance mark be required, the examination mark serves as the final mark

fundamental module: a module that serves as the academic basis of the learning activities for a particular programme or package

general denominational: theological training which is not denominational specific

GS: a combined mark (performance mark plus examination mark) of at least 40% required for admission to a specific prescribed module learning hours: the notional number of hours a student should spend to master the learning content of a particular module or programme. The total number of learning hours for a module consists of the time needed for lectures, practicals, self-tuition and any other activity required by the programme. Learning hours for modules are calculated on the basis of 40 working hours per week x 28 weeks = 1120 + 80 additional hours for evaluation = 1200. For undergraduate modules, the total number of learning hours per module is calculated using the formula: number of credits (per module) x 10 level (or year level): an indication of the level of complexity of a module (e.g. first, second or further level) and also implies a particular credit value; the (year) level is indicated by the first digit of the module code (thus, ENG 352 is a module in the discipline English at level 3)

module: a defined part of a subject which forms a whole; in this yearbook, "module" denotes a unit which extends over a term (or seven weeks), unless differently noted

module code: consists of an equal number of capitals and digits, which indicate the name of the module, the year of study and the level of the module

package: a group of modules which are connected and share a particular focus and which are taken by students as an area of specialisation within a programme

package co-ordinator: the individual responsible for organising, compiling and arranging the teaching of and guidance with a particular package programme: a coherent number of modules which lead to the acquisition of a specific qualification (certificate, diploma or degree); coherent elements and actions of education and training which lead to a specific outcome or set of outcomes

programme manager: the individual responsible for the overhead management, organisation and composition of a particular programme, together with the packages that make up the programme

qualification: the (career-orientated) outcome of a programme which leads to a diploma or degree

registration: the process a candidate is required to complete to be admitted as a student of the University or for admission to a study programme

regulation for admission: includes a provision regarding the selection process

semester module: a module that extends over one semester subject: a demarcated field of study of which one or more modules may be chosen syllabus: the division of the study material for a specific module, according to the regulations

tentamen: an oral discussion comprising of elements of teaching and evaluation weighted average: the weighted average is composed of the marks of the various modules, weighted with the credits of each module as a fraction of the total number of credits for the semester or year

year module: a module that extends over one year (two semesters)

REGULATIONS AND CURRICULA

The rules for degrees, diplomas and certificates here published are subject to change and may be amended prior to the commencement of the academic year in 2006.

1. Admission to diploma or undergraduate study

1.1 General

1.1.1 To register for a first diploma or bachelor's degree at the University, a candidate must submit –

- for admission to diploma studies, a Grade 12-certificate
- for admission to bachelor studies, a Grade 12-certificate with full matriculation exemption.

In addition to this, the candidate must comply with the specific admission requirements as prescribed in the admission regulations and the faculty regulations of the departments. It is expected of every new undergraduate student who wishes to register at the University of Pretoria, to take an academic literacy test. Based on the results of this test, the student will be enrolled in academic literacy modules that have to be passed before the qualification will be awarded. In exceptional circumstances other modules as approved by the Dean may substitute the academic literacy modules.

NB: ... Grade 12-examination ... refers to the final matriculation examination.

1.1.2 The following persons may also be considered for admission:

- (i) A candidate who is in possession of a certificate, which is deemed by the University to be equivalent to the required Grade 12-certificate, can be considered for admission to diploma studies.
- (ii) A candidate who is in possession of a certificate, which is deemed by the University to be equivalent to the required Grade 12-certificate with full matriculation exemption can be considered for admission to bachelor's degree studies.
- (iii) Note: A conditional exemption certificate does not grant admission to bachelor's degree study. However, in certain circumstances some of the faculties do accept a conditional exemption on the basis of mature age. Candidates are advised to contact the specific student administration in this regard.
- (iv) A candidate who is a graduate from another tertiary institution or has been granted the status of a graduate of such an institution can be considered for admission to undergraduate studies.
- (v) A candidate who passes an entrance examination, which is prescribed by the University from time to time, can be considered for admission to the relevant programme.
- (vi) The current grade 12-certificate will be replaced with the National Senior Certificate (NSC) with effect from 2008. One of the language subjects (chosen from Group A) must be Afrikaans or English. The required levels of grading for the subjects will be determined at a later stage.

1.1.3 The Senate may limit the number of students allowed to register for a programme, in which case the Dean concerned may, at his own discretion, select from the students who qualify for admission, those who may be admitted.

1.1.4 Subject to faculty regulations and the stipulations of General regulations G.1.3 and G.26, a candidate will only be admitted to postgraduate bachelor's studies, if he or she is already in possession of a recognised bachelor's degree.

1.2 Requirements for specific modules

A student who registers for a module which is offered by another faculty, must familiarise him/herself with the admission requirements for the particular modules (see yearbook of that faculty), as well as subminima for examinations, supplementary examinations, etc.

The requirements for modules offered by the Faculty of Theology for programmes leading to qualifications are described in Regulation T.13 (on page 35).

A candidate with Grade 12, but without exemption, may apply for admission to the University Diploma in Theology (Dipl Theol), provided that he or she has passed four approved Grade 12-subjects, of which at least two subjects at higher grade (with the exception of a second language) must have been passed with at least 50% (D).

A candidate without a Grade 12 certificate may also apply for admission to undergraduate studies, provided that he or she reaches the age of 23 by 31 December of the year in which he or she wishes to commence studies, and provided that he or she has passed four approved grade 12 subjects, of which at least two subjects at higher grade (with the exception of a second language) must have been passed with at least 50% (D symbol). Contact the Matriculation Board for more information. However, all such candidates will be required to write a potential test. The Dean will make the final decision regarding admission based on the results of the potential test.

2. Registration for a particular year of study

At the beginning of an academic year, a student registers for all the modules he or she intends taking in that particular year (whether these are first-semester, second-semester or year modules).

Changes to the selection of modules may be made at the beginning of the second semester with the Dean's approval. A student may only register for modules that will fit in on the lecture, test and examination timetables.

If a module does not attract enough registrations in order to be presented economically, the Dean may decide to withdraw it. The affected students will be informed in time to enable them to register for an alternative module.

3. Module credits for unregistered students

There are students who attend lectures, write tests and examinations and in this manner earn "marks", but have either not registered for modules or have not registered as students at all. These marks will not be communicated to any student before he/she has provided proof of enrolment. A student cannot obtain any credits in a specific academic year for a module "passed" in this manner during a previous academic year and for which he/she was not registered. This arrangement applies even where the student is prepared to pay the tuition fees.

4. Examination admission and pass requirements

A performance mark of at least 40% is required in order to be admitted to the examination in a module, with the exception of first-semester modules at 100-level for which the requirement is at least 30%. Excluding cases where faculty regulations require a higher percentage, a subminimum of at least 40% is required in the examination in each module. A final mark of at least 50% is required to pass. The pass mark for a mini-dissertation is at least 50%. The stipulations of G.60.2.1.2(a) regarding pass requirements for dissertations apply mutatis mutandis to mini-dissertations.

4.1 Subminima in examinations

Where applicable, the subminima required in examinations appear in the regulations of the qualification in question and in the syllabi of the modules required for that qualification.

4.2 Examinations

The examinations for modules take place at the end of such modules.

The examinations for semester modules take place at the end of the semester.

The examinations for year modules take place in October/November, except where such modules are presented according to a block system, in which case the examinations take place at the end of the particular block period.

4.3 Ancillary examinations

After completion of an examination and before the examination results are published, the examiners may summon a student for an ancillary examination on particular aspects of the work of that module.

4.4 Re-marking of examination papers (also consult Reg G.14)

After an examination, departments give feedback to students about the framework used by the examiners during the examination. The heads of departments determine the feedback process. Students may apply for re-marking of an examination paper within 14 calendar days of commencement of lectures in the next semester. The prescribed fee has to be paid. The paper will then be re-marked by an examiner appointed by the Head of the Department.

4.5 Supplementary examinations

- (a) Supplementary examinations take place after the regular examinations, as scheduled by the Dean.
- (b) To pass a supplementary examination, a student must obtain a minimum of 50%.
- (c) The highest final percentage a student can obtain in a supplementary examination is 50%.

4.6 Special examinations

A student who has complied with all the requirements for a degree, with the exception of a maximum of four semester or two year modules in which a final mark of at least 40% has been obtained, may be admitted to a special examination at any time prior to the scheduled examinations in the relevant modules.

4.7 Examination policy

The examination policy of the Faculty of Theology is available on request. It is displayed on the official notice boards in Theology Building and is brought to the students' attention from time to time.

T.1 PROGRAMMES IN THE FACULTY OF THEOLOGY LEADING TO DIPLOMAS AND DEGREES

(a) General

The programmes of the Faculty of Theology are aimed at theological training with a view to church ministry. Some offer general training and formation, which can be used by churches as basis for church-specific training and formation. Other programmes, which are offered in co-operation with church partners, offer both generally formative and church-specific formative theological training.

The programmes can be divided into two further categories:

- (i) those meant for early specialisation [BA(Theol), BA(Hons)(Theol), leading to MA(Theol), PhD]
- (ii) those offering a broad, general education to a reasonably advanced stage, before focussing on a specific field of specialisation and research (BTh, MDiv, MTh, leading to DD).

(b) Degrees and diplomas

The following diploma and degrees are offered in the Faculty (minimum duration of study given in brackets). Remarks concerning restructuring and the phasing in/out of curricula and programmes are printed in italics.

- (i) University Diploma in Theology – Dipl Theol (3 years)
- (ii) Baccalaureus Artium (Theology) – BA(Theol) (3 years)
- (iii) Baccalaureus Artium(Honores)(Theology) – BA(Hons)(Theol) (1 year)
- (iv) Baccalaureus Theologiae – BTh (4 years)
- (v) Magister Philosophiae in Applied Theology – MPhil (2 years)
- (vi) Magister Divinitatis – MDiv (2 years)
- (vii) Magister Artium(Theology) – MA(Theol)
- (viii) Magister Theologiae – MTh
- (ix) Philosophiae Doctor – PhD
- (x) Doctor Divinitatis – DD.

General Regulations G.1 to G.15 apply to a bachelor's degree, and G.36 and G.51 to master's and doctoral studies.

(c) Registration for qualifications not yet approved

Should a candidate wish to register for a study programme that has not received official approval yet, the Dean may identify an existing programme for which the candidate can register. The undertaking is that the curriculum and modules of the as yet not approved programme may be taken, and that the registration will be changed officially and administratively as soon as the particular programme receives approval. Furthermore, the assumption is that the fees payable to the University will be calculated in terms of the last-mentioned study programme, and not in terms of the programme for which the student initially registered.

(d) Computer and information literacy

The Faculty of Theology regards computer and information literacy as important skills which students have to master during their studies. It is therefore compulsory for new students to register for and pass the module CIL 111 in the first year of study in order to become computer and information literate. Students who already possess these skills, may take an exemption examination.

T.2 PROGRAMME WHICH LEADS TO THE UNIVERSITY DIPLOMA IN THEOLOGY
Dipl Theol (Code 06120002)

Code	Teaching centre	Curriculum
100:	UP	curriculum (aa)
315:	Africa Institute for Missiology	curriculum (aa)
317:	Baptist Seminary, Kempton Park	curriculum (bb)

(a) General

This programme offers general theological education to students who have passed the Grade 12-examination without matriculation exemption. It also builds a basis for practical training and formation with a view to the ministry.

Curriculum (aa) offers wide opportunities to compile one's own curriculum.

A student who registers for this programme, has to submit his or her curriculum to the Dean for approval at the beginning of each academic year.

(b) Duration

Three years.

(c) Curriculum

The following table indicates the minimum credit values allowed in the curriculum. However, in practice the credit values may be higher, especially when modules from other faculties are included which have higher credit values.

Yr	Level	Total credits	Number of modules	Credits per module
I	100	120	20	6
II	200	128	16	6
III	200	32	4	8
	300	96	8	12
Total		376	48

Note:

- The modules referred to are offered per quarter. This structure applies mutatis mutandis to curriculum (bb) where other semester modules are applicable.
- Academic literacy: In terms of 1.1.1 (p 6) the following additional modules must be completed during the programme: EOT 110 and EOT 120. (Candidates who passed the Academic Literacy Test are exempted.)
- Computer and information literacy: In terms of T.1(d) the following additional module must be completed during the first year of study: CIL111.
- When compiling a curriculum or selecting modules, the following must be taken into account:
  - If this programme is followed at a seminary or college (in terms of an agreement between such institution and the University of Pretoria), the freedom of selection of modules – as offered by this regulation – may be limited in accordance with in-house curricular arrangements.
  - Certain modules are prerequisites to later modules. See T.13 (p 35) for description of modules, credit values and prerequisites applicable.
  - If a module does not attract enough student registrations to be presented economically, the Dean may decide to withdraw it. Students will be advised in time of such decisions in order to register for an alternative module.

- It may be advisable that an equal number of modules be selected for each of the terms to ensure a balanced spread.
- The timetable of lectures must be consulted.

T.3 PROGRAMME WHICH LEADS TO BACCALAUREUS ARTIUM (THEOLOGY) BA(Theol)
--

BA(Theology)

Code

06130001:	UP students	curriculum (aa)
06130011:	Baptist Seminary Kempton Park	curriculum (bb)

- (a) General
This programme aims to provide the student with general theological training. It enables the student to reach a reasonable level of specialisation in Theology. It also offers ample scope to compile one's own curriculum and to include non-theological elective modules.
The programme builds a basis for church-specific programmes and practical training with a view to the ministry.
A student who registers for this programme, has to submit his or her curriculum to the Dean for approval at the beginning of each academic year.
- (b) Duration
Three years.
- (c) Curriculum
Curriculum (bb) is only offered at the Baptist Seminary Kempton Park.
See T.13 (p 35) for a more detailed description of modules, as well as credit values and prerequisites applicable.

Notes:

1. "Module" refers to a unit presented for one quarter unless indicated as a semester module or year module.

2. Academic literacy: In terms of 1.1.1 (p 6) the following additional modules must be completed during the programme: EOT 110 and EOT 120. (Candidates who passed the Academic Literacy Test are exempted.)
3. Computer and information literacy: In terms of T.1(d) the following additional module has to be completed during the first year of study: CIL 111.
4. When an individual curriculum is planned or modules are selected, the following must be taken into account:
  - 4.1. If this programme is followed at a seminary or college (in terms of an agreement between such institution and the University of Pretoria), the scope of freedom in the selection of modules, as offered by this regulation, may be limited in accordance with in-house curricular arrangements.
  - 4.2. Certain modules are pre-required for later modules. (See table of modules and prerequisites, p 35.)
  - 4.3. If a module does not attract enough student registrations to be presented economically, the Dean may decide to withdraw it. Students will be advised in time of such decisions, so that they can register for alternative modules.
  - 4.4. It may be advisable that an equal number of modules be selected for each of the quarters to ensure a balanced spread.
  - 4.5. Postgraduate study (i.e. honours) can only follow upon a major subject of which at least 10 modules had been done (four in the final year). (See T.6(b), on p 22.)
  - 4.6. The timetable of lectures must be consulted.

(a) General

This programme provides theological training and formation aimed at the needs of churches. It has two aspects, namely a general denominational aspect and a specific denominational aspect. The outcome which the programme aims to achieve, is theoretically supported formation aimed at a broad spectrum of ministerial needs. For this purpose certain elements of the programme are presented in partnership with churches that bought into the programme.

T.13 MODULES AND PREREQUISITES

The curricula for the Dipl Theol, BA(Theol), BTh, BA(Hons)(Theol), MPhil, MDiv and MTh degrees are compiled from the modules listed below. When a curriculum allows modules presented by other faculties, the Yearbooks of those faculties should also be consulted with regard to the regulations, curricula and syllabi of the Faculties concerned.

The prerequisites indicated must be met in order for a student to be admitted to the particular module. If a pre-required module is followed by the symbol "GS," a combined mark (i.e. of performance and examination mark) of at least 40% must be obtained before the student may be admitted to the module in the first column (see also p 5). However, a module listed in the last column without "GS", has to be passed before a student may register for the corresponding module in the first column.

Admission requirements in the last column with brackets only apply to students who registered for BTh, and wish to take the module in the first column as part of the curriculum for BTh.

The requirement that a module in the last column must be passed before a module in the first column may be taken, may be amended by the Dean on the recommendation of the Head of the Department in question.
