GENERAL INFORMATION

Admission/readmission

Any person, who wishes to register at the University for the first time, or after an interruption of studies, should apply or reapply for admission. Application for admission to all degree programmes closes on 30 September.

Selection

A selection procedure takes place prior to admission to any degree programme in this Faculty.

Postgraduate selection takes place according to faculty regulations.

Statement of symbols

When registering at this University for the first time, a candidate has to submit a record of symbols obtained for each subject in the Grade 12-examination.

National Senior Certificate

All undergraduate candidates who enroll at the University of Pretoria for the first time, must show their original National Senior Certificate at the Student Administration of their faculty before the end of the first semester.

Medium of instruction

In conducting its business, the University uses two official languages, namely Afrikaans and English.

In formal education, the medium of instruction is either Afrikaans or English, or both of these languages, provided that there is a demand and that it is academically and economically justifiable. However, it remains the student's responsibility to ascertain on an annual basis in which language a module and any further level of that module is presented.

In respect of administrative and other services, a student has the right to choose whether the University should communicate with him or her in Afrikaans or English.

Bursaries and loans

Particulars of bursaries and loans are available on request from the Section: Study Financing, University of Pretoria, 0002.

Accommodation

Applications for accommodation in university residences for a particular year can be submitted as from 1 March of the preceding year. Applications will be considered as long as vacancies exist, and prospective students are advised to apply well in advance. Please note that admission to the University does not automatically mean that lodging will also be available.

Welcoming day and academic orientation week

Details of the welcoming day to which all parents are cordially invited, and the subsequent academic orientation week during which all new first-year undergraduate students must be present, are obtainable from the Dean of Students, University of Pretoria, 0002.

Prescribed books

Lists of prescribed books are not available. The appropriate lecturers will supply information regarding prescribed books to students at the commencement of lectures.

Amendments of regulations and fees

The University retains the right to amend the regulations and to change programme/module fees without prior notification.

Please note: The fees advertised and thus levied in respect of a module or study programme presentation represents a combination of the costs associated with the formal services rendered (for example lectures, practicals, access to laboratories, consumables used in laboratories, etc.) as well as associated indirect overheads such as the provision of library and recreation facilities, security and cleaning services, electricity and water supply, etc. Therefore the fees in respect of a module or study programme presentation cannot simply be reconciled with the visible services that are rendered in respect of such module or study programme.

Cancellation of modules

The cut-off date for cancellation of modules in the first and second semesters will be communicated to students by means of notices on the notice boards and announcements in the classes as well as in the timetable book. Students will not be allowed to cancel any module at a later date and lecturers/administrative staff will not supply any letters in this regard after the deadline.

Definition of terms

Familiarise yourself with the following terms. They are used generally in all faculties.

academic year: the duration of the academic year as determined by the University Council core module: a module that is essential for a particular programme or package credit (or credit value): a value unit (credit) accredited to every module and which represents the complexity of and amount of work needed for the module; one credit represents 10 notional/learning hours curriculum: a series of modules grouped together from different subjects over a specified period of time and in a certain sequence according to the regulations elective module: a module that forms part of a package and which can be selected on an elective basis, with the proviso that enough credits are obtained at the specific year level, as required by the relevant degree or diploma examination mark: the mark awarded to a student in a module on the basis of an examination in a paper/papers, including practical and clinical examinations, where applicable extended (study) programme: a study programme for a degree or diploma which, in accordance with the regulations, is taken over a longer period than the normal minimum duration of the degree and diploma final mark: the mark calculated on the basis of the semester/year mark and the examination mark awarded to a student in a module, using a formula which is determined from time to time by means of regulations for every module with the proviso that should no semester/year mark be required in a module, the examination mark serves as the final mark fundamental module: a module that serves as the academic basis of the learning activities for a particular programme or package

GS: a combined mark (semester/year mark plus examination mark) of at least 40% required for admission to a specific prescribed module learning hours: the notional number of hours a student should spend to master the learning content of a particular module or programme. The total number of learning hours for a module consists of the time needed for lectures, practicals, self-study and any other activity required by the training programme. Learning hours for modules are calculated on the basis of 40 working hours per week x 28 weeks = 1 120 + 80 additional hours for evaluation = 1 200. For undergraduate modules, the total number of learning hours per module is calculated using the formula: number of credits (per module) x 10.

level (or year level): this is an indication of the complexity of a module (e.g. first, second or further level), and also implies a particular credit value. The first digit of the module code indicates the (year) level (thus ADR 310 is a module in the discipline of Administrative Law at level three).

module: an independent, defined learning unit, designed to result in a specific set of learning outcomes, and which is a component of a programme.

package: a group of modules which are connected and share a particular focus and which are taken by students as an area of specialisation within a programme programme coordinator: the individual responsible for organising, compiling and arranging the teaching of/and guidance with a particular programme programme manager: the individual responsible for the overhead management, organisation and composition of a particular programme, together with the packages that make up the programme regulation for admission: a regulation compiled by the dean concerning the admission of students to the faculty and which includes a provision regarding the selection process semester mark/year mark: the mark awarded to a student on the basis of tests, class work, practical work or any other work which was done in a module subject: a demarcated field of study of which one or more modules may be chosen for a degree syllabus: the division of the study material for a specific module year module: a module that extends over one year (two semesters)

REGULATIONS IN THE FACULTY OF LAW

The rules for the degrees here published are subject to change and may be amended prior to the commencement of the academic year in 2009.

1. Admission to undergraduate study

1.1 Admission requirements for candidates with a National Senior Certificate (NSC)

To be able to gain access to a faculty and specific programmes, prospective students require the appropriate combinations of recognised NSC subjects as well as certain levels of achievement in the said subjects. In this regard the determination of an admission point score (APS) is explained and a summary of the faculty specific requirements, i.e. the admission point score (APS) per programme and the specific subjects required per programme is provided.

Determination of an Admission Point Score (APS)

The calculation is based on a candidate's achievement in six 20-credit recognised subjects by using the NSC ratings, which is the "1 to 7 scale of achievement for each subject". Thus, the highest APS that can be achieved is 42.

Life Orientation is excluded from the calculation determining the APS required for admission.

Rating code	Rating	Marks %
7	Outstanding achievement	80-100%
6	Meritorious achievement	70-79%
5	Substantial achievement	60-69%
4	Adequate achievement	50-59%
3	Moderate achievement	40-49%
2	Elementary achievement	30-39%
1	Not achieved	0-29%

Provisional admission is based on the results obtained in the final Grade 11-examination. Final admission is based on Grade 12-results. Please note: The final Grade 12-results will be the determining factor with regard to admission.

Alternative admission channels:

Candidates with an APS lower than required could be considered for admission to a faculty if they meet the additional assessment criteria specified by a faculty from time to time. Preference will, however, be given to students who comply with the regular admission requirements of a faculty.

1.2 Specific requirements for the Faculty of Law from 2009

- (i) A valid National Senior Certificate with admission for degree purposes.
- (ii) The minimum subject and level requirements as indicated in the table on the next page.
- (iii) A motivation letter (contact Student Administration).

Degree	APS	Group A			Group B
		Two Languages	Mathematics or Mathematical Literacy	Life Orientation	3 Other subjects
LLB	Candidates with an APS of 28 and higher will be given preference until 30 June, thereafter candidates with an APS of 24 – 27 will be considered if there is space available.	4 (50-59%) in two languages (at Home Language or First Additional Language levels): Afrikaans and English or Afrikaans/English and another recognised language	Mathematics or Mathematical Literacy	Not taken into consideration when calculating the APS	Any three subjects

Note:

- The applications of candidates whose Grade 11-marks do not meet the admission requirements, but who comply with the above requirements in the Grade 12-examinations, will be reconsidered on request, if there are places available in the Faculty, on condition that the candidates applied for admission to LLB studies prior to 30 June of the previous year.
- Candidates, who are admitted provisionally on the basis of their Grade 11-results, retain their admission after sitting for the Grade 12-examinations, only if they obtain an NSC with admission for degree purposes and comply with all of the above requirements.

1.3 The Senate may limit the number of students allowed to register for a specific field of study in which case the dean concerned may, at his/her own discretion, select from the students who qualify for admission those who may be admitted. Students who take a module offered by another faculty, must familiarise themselves with the requirements for admission to the module in question as well as the regulations governing admission to the module concerned, sub minima in examinations, supplementary examinations, etc.

1.4 The following persons may also be considered for admission:

- (i) A candidate who is in possession of a certificate that is deemed by the University to be equivalent to the required National Senior Certificate with admission for degree purposes.
- (ii) A candidate who is a graduate from another tertiary institution or has been granted the status of a graduate of such an institution.
- (iii) A candidate who is a graduate from another faculty at this University.

Note: A conditional exemption certificate does not grant admission to LLB study.

Prospective students are requested to contact the Faculty for more information regarding the admission requirements pertaining to the abovementioned categories.

2. Academic literacy

It is expected of every new undergraduate student who wishes to register at the University to complete an academic literacy test. Based on the results of this test, the student will be enrolled in academic literacy modules that have to be passed before the degree will be awarded.

In exceptional circumstances, the academic literacy modules may be substituted by other modules as approved by the Dean.

3. Computer and Information literacy

The following modules in Computer and Information Literacy are compulsory for all first-year students of the Faculty of Law: CIL 111 and CIL 121. If a student is of the opinion that he/she complies with the requirements, arrangements can be made to write an exemption test. (Only for CIL 111 – No exemption will be given for CIL 121 as the contents will be University specific.)

4. Registration for a particular year of study

At the beginning of an academic year, a student registers for all the modules he/she intends taking in that particular year (whether these be first-semester, second-semester or year modules).

Changes to the chosen study programme may be made at the beginning of the second semester with the Dean's approval. A student may also only register for modules that will fit in on the lecture, test and examination timetables. Application for reregistration can be refused on the grounds of poor academic performance in the previous year.

5. Credits for unregistered students

There are students who attend lectures, write tests and examinations and in this manner earn "marks", but have either not registered for modules or have not registered as students at all. These marks will not be communicated to any student before he/she has provided proof of enrolment.

A student cannot obtain any credits in a specific academic year for a module "passed" in this manner during a previous academic year and for which he/she was not registered. This arrangement applies even where the student is prepared to pay the tuition fees.

6. Exemption/credits for modules passed at other institutions

Students must apply on the prescribed form that is only available at the Student Administration office. The complete syllabus of the module concerned must accompany the application.

Students transferring from another university must complete at least half (50%) of the modules needed for the LLB degree at this University and must be a registered student of this University for at least two years.

7. Examination policy

7.1 General

- The examinations in first-semester modules take place in May/June, while examinations in second-semester modules take place in October/November. Each student has the responsibility to ascertain when modules will be written according to the official examination timetable.
- The use of correction fluid such as TipEx in tests, examinations and assignments is prohibited.
- No cell phones are allowed in test or examination venues.

7.2 Examination admission and pass requirements

A semester mark of at least 40% is required in order to be admitted to the examination in any module, with the exception of first-semester modules at 100-level for which the minimum requirement is 30%.

A final mark of at least 50% is required to pass. The final mark is the average mark of the semester and the examination mark but a subminimum of 40% is required in the examination in each module. Should the student fail to achieve the required subminimum, the lecturer could grant a supplementary examination, provided that the final mark is at least 40%.

The pass mark for essays, seminars, etc. is at least 50%. The stipulations of G.60.4.d(vii) regarding requirements for dissertations, apply mutatis mutandis to essays.

7.3 Ancillary examinations

After completion of an examination and before the examination results are released, the examiners may summon a student for an ancillary examination on particular aspects of the work of that module.

7.4 Re-marking of examination papers (also consult General Regulation G.14)

After an examination, departments provide feedback to students about the framework that was used by the examiners during the examination. The way in which feedback is given, is determined by the head of the department. Students may apply for re-marking of an examination paper after perusal of such paper within 14 calendar days after commencement of lectures in the next semester. The prescribed fee has to be paid. The paper will then be re-marked by an examiner appointed by the head of the department concerned. A student can only pass or fail a re-marked paper – a supplementary examination will not be granted.

A student is only allowed either to write the supplementary examination or to apply for a re-mark but not both.

7.5 Supplementary examinations

- (i) Supplementary examinations in first-semester modules take place after the May/June examinations, while those in second-semester modules take place after the October/November examinations.
- (ii) To pass a supplementary examination, a student must obtain a minimum of 50% in the supplementary examination – the semester mark does not count.
- (iii) The highest final mark a student can obtain in a supplementary examination is 50%.

All students with a final mark of 40%-49% will qualify to write the supplementary examination. If a student does not write the supplementary examination on the scheduled day, there will not be any later opportunity for a rewrite.

7.6 Aegrotat/extraordinary examinations

Students, who do not write their examinations on the scheduled day, may apply for an aegrotat/extraordinary examination at the Student Administration office. Each request is referred to the Dean and the Student Affairs Committee for a decision. Lecturers are not allowed to grant any permission for this category of examination. It is the responsibility of the student to ascertain whether his/her request has been successful. If permission has been granted, the student will be allowed to write the aegrotat/extraordinary examination during the supplementary examination.

Such a student will not qualify for a further supplementary examination.

Application for the above examination must be handed in at the Student Administration office together with a valid medical certificate not later than three days after the module should have been written.

A student who has been granted permission to write an aegrotat/extraordinary examination and who then fails to write the examination will not qualify to submit any such application at a later stage.

7.7 Special examinations

A student who has complied with all the requirements for a degree, with the exception of a maximum of four semester modules in which a final mark of at least 40% has been obtained, may be admitted to a special examination in January of the following year.

Should the student fail the module(s), the particular module(s) must be repeated in full.

8. Test policy

8.1 Semester tests

- There will be at least two evaluation opportunities per semester module.
Exceptions:
 - Modules in which the Faculty has given permission in advance that the semester mark may be calculated in another manner.
 - Where a student is only taking a sick or an extraordinary test as described hereunder.
- The dates of official semester tests may only be changed with the permission of all members of a class group present during a scheduled lecture. If such a change of schedule occurs, the onus is on each student to find out about it. Absence from the class in which such arrangements were made will not serve as an excuse.
- Students are entitled to perusal of tests scripts but not to a re-mark by either the lecturer or an external examiner.

8.2 Sick tests

- There is only one sick or an extraordinary test opportunity and this takes place at the end of the semester. Students must obtain the details from the lecturer. The test will cover all the work completed up to the date of the test. There are no special provisions to supplement marks where an evaluation opportunity takes the form of an assignment or a series of class tests.
- A student who is unable to write an official semester test on the scheduled date or at the scheduled time, must apply in writing for a sick or extraordinary test.
- Application must be made in writing before the date of the test to the lecturer responsible for the administration of the module concerned. Where this is not possible, the application must be made within three working days after the date of the test.
- In the case of illness, a doctor who treated the student must certify on a medical certificate that the particular student was, in his/her opinion, not in a fit state to prepare for or to sit for the test as a result of ill health. It is the University's policy that a medical certificate indicating that the student was, according to his/her own opinion, unfit to prepare for or to sit for the test is unacceptable.
- In cases where a reason other than sickness is relied upon, the student must submit an affidavit that reflects the reason for his/her absence from the test. Further evidentiary documents or supporting affidavits from persons who may be able to give evidence regarding the situation must also be submitted. In the event of a funeral, a copy of the death certificate of the deceased or other substantiating evidence is required together with an explanation of the relationship between the student and the deceased.

The worn excuses of having overslept or read the timetable incorrectly will not be accepted.

- Students must confirm with the lecturer that a sick or an extraordinary test has been granted. A student, who cannot get hold of the lecturer in person, must preferably hand the documentation to the relevant departmental secretary.
- A record is kept of every application for a sick or an extraordinary test. This information may later be disclosed to prospective employers who seek letters of reference from the Faculty.
- A student who has been granted permission to write a sick or an extraordinary test and who then fails to write the test will not qualify for any such test at a later stage.

9. Releasing of test and examination marks

- Lecturers will advise students where test scripts will be made available. The lecturer will give the students feedback on semester tests, either by way of a written memorandum or a class discussion. Each department will also make known to students the process by which changes to marks, etc. will be handled in that department.
- Final marks will be published by Student Administration. Lecturers will advise students in advance of the date on which perusal of examination papers will take place. At such a perusal session there will be a written memorandum or the lecturer must otherwise, by a method that he/she shall determine, give the students feedback on the paper. Students who are unable to attend the official perusal session may apply to the lecturer, in the same manner as for sick and extraordinary tests, for an opportunity to see the examination script. No lecturer is under any obligation to grant any student such a perusal opportunity more than two weeks after the commencement of the following semester.
- Lecturers are entitled to destroy examination scripts one year after the completion of the relevant examination session.

10. Handling of problems and consulting hours of the Dean and lecturers

- Students who have a problem must first determine whether the problem relates to their registration with the University or to the module. In both instances the Student Administration should be consulted first.
- A problem regarding the content of a particular module must first be taken up with the specific lecturer responsible for the module. If the student cannot be assisted with his/her problem at this level, he/she must consult with the relevant head of department and afterwards with the Dean, if necessary.
- Lecturers in a specific department work under the guidance of a head of department. Lecturers or the head of the department can be consulted during their consulting hours or otherwise, by appointment. If a lecturer must be consulted by appointment, the appointment must be arranged with the relevant lecturer or the departmental secretary.
- Students may consult the Dean by making an appointment, in advance, with the Dean's secretary.

11. Testimonials required for good conduct

Students guilty of dishonest conduct are charged with misconduct. If the student is found guilty, disciplinary steps are taken, of which suspension from the university is one possibility. Dishonest conduct includes: copying of work during tests or examinations, copying of assignments, the illegal use of notes during tests and examinations, the submission of forged medical certificates or false affidavits.

Prospective law students must be aware that the Law Society requires every prospective candidate attorney who applies for clerkship to submit a testimonial to satisfy the Law Society that he/she is fit and proper to do so. The testimonial should disclose any previous criminal convictions or disciplinary steps taken against the applicant. In such instances a decision will be taken by the Law Society and it is possible that the application can be refused.

The Dean has the authority to decide about all matters that are not covered by the general or faculty regulations.

(Note: It is the sole responsibility of each student to ascertain whether he/she has all the necessary modules to comply with all the requirements for the degree.)

UNDERGRADUATE STUDIES

General Regulations G.1 to G.15 are applicable to a bachelor's degree.

BACCALAUREUS LEGUM (LLB) (Code 04130004)

The LLB is the first professional qualification for legal practitioners and provides qualifiers with the necessary theoretical knowledge and practical skills to gain entry into the formal legal profession (e.g. attorneys/advocates), or to follow other careers in law.

- (a) Duration
A minimum of four years.
- (b) Admission requirements
A National Senior Certificate with admission for degree purposes and an AP-score as determined by the Faculty.
- (c) Repeating of modules and maximum number of modules per year
 - Students who fail modules must repeat the modules in the following year.
 - Students will, however, not be allowed to take more than ten modules per semester. (This will mean that in certain instances students will not be allowed to take all the modules required for a specific year as the outstanding modules must still be repeated and passed.)
The Dean may, however, exercise discretion to grant exemption from this provision.

- It is the student's responsibility to choose modules that will not lead to class, test or examination timetable clashes.

(d) Credit for modules

Students transferring from another university can only obtain credit for at the most 50% of the modules needed for the degree and must complete at least 50% of the modules at the University of Pretoria.

(e) Promotion requirements

(According to Regulation G.3 a Faculty Board may set promotion requirements which students must adhere to before they will be promoted.)

- A
1. A student must pass at least 8 semester modules in order to be promoted to the next year of study.
 2. Students who passed 4 to 7 semester modules may reregister but will not be promoted to the next year of study.
 3. A student who passed less than 4 semester modules will not be re-admitted to the Faculty of Law. A student, who has forfeited readmission to the Faculty, may apply in writing to the Admissions Committee of the Faculty for conditional readmission to the Faculty – with the proviso that the Admissions Committee may stipulate further requirements for progress. A student's application for conditional readmission to the Faculty may be refused.
 4. A student who has been conditionally readmitted to the Faculty will have his/her studies monitored after the first-semester examination in order to determine whether such student has met the set conditions.
- B
1. Reregistration will only be permitted if a student is capable of completing the degree in the prescribed minimum period of 4 years plus a further 2 years according to the opinion of the Admissions Committee.

(f) Degree with distinction

For the degree to be awarded with distinction, a student must obtain a general average of at least 75% in respect of all the modules prescribed for the third and fourth years of the LLB degree, completed at this University.

(g) Composition of the curriculum

(Abbreviations: lpw = lectures per week tpw = tutorials per week
spw = seminars per week dpw = discussion classes per week)

In terms of the National Qualifications Framework (NQF), which is endorsed by the Faculty, specific credits are allocated to each module.

* The Dean can determine which optional modules will be presented each year, taking into consideration the availability of lecturing personnel, space and financial implications and/or other circumstances: Provided that the Dean may also determine the minimum and maximum number of registrations for a specific elective module.

The Dean has the discretion to credit any other legal module of equal standard passed at another institution as an elective.

Practical Law 410 and 420

- (i) The number of students who may be admitted to the module Practical Law is predetermined by the Dean, in consultation with the Head of the Department of Procedural Law.
- (ii) Prospective students must apply for admission to the module.
- (iii) Should more students apply for admission to the module than can be accepted, a selection process will take place on the basis of a student's previous performance and an interview with the Director of the Law Clinic.
- (iv) Students are promoted on the basis of tests, satisfactory execution of assignments, sessions in the Law Clinic and an oral examination.
- (v) Students must take PRR 420 in the same year as PRR 410.

$ Civil Procedure

Students who have passed Civil Procedure at another university but not the subsection Pleadings, must register for and pass SIP 420 before any exemption will be granted for SIP 410.

(SIS 420) SUPERVISED INTERNSHIP 420 – (10 credits)

(For LLB)

The objective of this service learning programme is to expose students to the context in which the law operates and where possible to render community service. Internships may be served at any institution where the student will gain valuable experience and exposure related to his/her studies. Criteria in regard to the kinds of institutions shall be set by the Faculty Board. Possible institutions include international organisations (such as the United Nations and the African Union), state institutions (such as Parliament, the Competition Tribunal and the Human Rights Commission), entrepreneurial organisations (such as the JSE), civil society organisations and NGOs. Law firms may be hosts to the extent that pro bono work is involved.

Students will be expected to serve a minimum of 120 hours at host institutions.

Before admission to this module the student must submit a working plan to the Dean for approval indicating the nature of the work to be undertaken as well as the number of hours that will be spent doing the work. The proposed working plan must be supported by the academic member of staff who will serve as the academic supervisor of the internship.

A co-supervisor at the institution where the student will be placed must be identified in the proposed working plan.

The student, academic supervisor and co-supervisor must each write a report at the completion of the internship.

The student delivers an oral presentation before a panel consisting of the Dean, academic supervisor and an external examiner during which the student defends his/her report. The panel awards a mark after considering the three written reports and the oral presentation.

- (b) The Dean advises final-year students of the date on which the subject of the essay must be submitted to him for approval.
- (c) The head of the department responsible for the subject, or a lecturer designated by him/her, acts as project leader and as examiner: Provided that the head of the department may appoint an external examiner should he/she deem it necessary.
- (d) Two typed, duplicated or printed copies of the essay of between 8 000 and 14 000 words (with an indication of the amount of words on the last page of the essay), must be submitted. The date when the essay must be submitted is the first Monday after the September/October recess.

Each lecturer supervises a maximum of 15 students annually. The topics chosen by these students must preferably be thematically linked. At the beginning of the year, all registered students as a group attend three compulsory one-hour lectures on the approach to and writing of an essay. Following this, each lecturer organises one seminar of two hours with his/her group of students, during which students submit the topics and basic structure of their essays.

After completion of the dissertations, a copy of each essay is made available to students. For this purpose, one copy must be handed in at the library, and the other at the supervisor. The lecturer then organises a further series of seminars, where each student presents his/her conclusions for the group to criticise. At these seminars, the lecturer also involves another faculty member or expert.

The evaluation is as follows:

Written document 70%

Participation in seminar 30%

MAGISTER LEGUM (LLM): RESEARCH

Total number of NQF credits: 200

Also consult General Regulations G.30 to G.44.

(a) Requirement for admission

Subject to the stipulations of General Regulations G.1.3 and G.62, a candidate for the LLM degree must be in possession of at least an LLB or a BProc degree or an equivalent degree from a foreign university that allows entrance to the formal legal profession, in order to qualify for admission. Foreign qualifications are subject to SAQA evaluation.

A candidate will only be admitted to a master's degree by the head of department if he/she complies with the standard of competence in applicable subjects as determined by the head of the department, also taking into account the candidate's academic record and any applicable experience.

Approved candidates will be allowed to register for the LLM Preparatory Programme for one year until such a candidate meets the preparatory requirements as determined by the Dean.

A candidate will only be allowed to change from the LLM Preparatory Programme to the LLM of choice after the preparatory oral examination has been completed successfully and a research proposal has been accepted by the proposed supervisor as well as by the postgraduate committee and has been approved by the Dean as recommended by the postgraduate committee.

(b) Duration

The study extends over at least two semesters (1 year) or a maximum of 8 semesters (4 years) (subject to the General Regulations G.30 – G.61).

(c) Examination

The curriculum consists of an oral examination (as part of the LLM Preparatory Programme) and a dissertation. The oral examination deals with a prescribed programme of advanced study in a major subject and two subsidiary subjects, approved by the Dean. A major subject refers to the subject or particular field within a subject that is recognised for the bachelor's degree and to which the dissertation is closely linked. A subsidiary subject refers to a subject from a related field of study.

(d) Dissertation

With regard to the abovementioned curriculum, the General Regulations. G.57-G.61 apply and the dissertation counts 100% for the final mark. The dissertation consists of 36 000 – 48 000 words inclusive of footnotes but excluding the list of contents and the bibliography. The dissertation must be accompanied by at least one draft article for publication in a recognised academic journal. The draft article should be based on the research that the student has conducted for the dissertation and be approved by the supervisor.

(e) Degree with distinction

For the degree to be awarded with distinction a student must obtain a minimum of 75% for the dissertation.

MAGISTER LEGUM (LLM): COURSEWORK

Also consult General Regulations G.30 to G.44.

GENERAL REGULATIONS

- (a) Examinations and supplementary examinations
 In the event of having failed two modules, a student will only be allowed to continue with his/her studies with the Dean's consent.
 Although no supplementary examination will be granted with regard to LLM modules, the General Regulations (Regulation G.12.3 and G.12.6) apply with regard to special and ancillary examinations.
- (b) Language policy
 The medium of instruction will be English. However, should circumstances allow it, an LLM module may be presented in Afrikaans. The Dean, in consultation with the relevant head of department, determines the language policy.
- (c) Period of registration
 At the commencement of a particular module students should be registered for that module and attend the lectures. Alternatively, the permission of the programme coordinator or head of the department should be obtained before a student may be allowed to follow a specific module in a another year of study.
- (d) Limiting of modules on offer in a particular academic year and availability to foreign students
 The Dean can determine which modules will be presented each year, taking into consideration the availability of lecturing personnel, space and financial implications and/or other circumstances. The Dean may, on recommendation of the relevant head of the department, limit the minimum or maximum number of students who want to register for a specific module.
Students should note that all the modules offered in a specific academic year are marked with an *.

 In the case of foreign students additional requirements may be set by the Dean and the modules available to such students may also be limited.
- (e) Credit for modules completed at another institution
 The Dean may in consultation with the relevant head of the department credit a student for a maximum of two modules or a mini-dissertation completed at another institution on condition that it complies with the requirements of this Faculty.
- (f) Credit for non-legal components
 In order to qualify for an LLM-degree with non-legal components, the specific degree can at most include one non-legal module of the prescribed number of modules from a related field, and with the special permission from the Faculty Board.
 Note that with regard to both (e) and (f) credit will not be given for modules which form part of another degree where the student has already complied with the requirements of such a degree. This rule is also applicable in instances where the student is currently also registered for another degree.

(g) Reregistration for modules

A student may not register more than twice for the same module. In order to pass a module the student must obtain a final mark of 50%.

(h) Mini-dissertation

Mini-dissertations where required must be submitted in the format determined by the Faculty Board.

A	LLM: COURSEWORK PROGRAMMES (consisting of three 30-credit modules, one 10-credit module on Research Methodology including a research proposal and a mini-dissertation of 100 credits.

Total number of NQF credits: 200

SPECIFIC REGULATIONS

(a) Requirement for admission

In addition to an LLB, BProc or equivalent qualification from a foreign university that allows the applicant entrance to the formal legal profession, the following requirement is set for admission of a prospective student to the LLM Coursework programme:

A minimum average mark of 65% with respect to the prescribed final-year modules of the undergraduate programme.

Where an average of below 65% is achieved, the student may be admitted on recommendation of the relevant head of department after consultation with the programme coordinator and/or the course leader and consideration of other merits and/or an admission examination.

Foreign qualifications are subject to SAQA evaluation.

Even though a student may comply with the above requirements, the Dean may, on the recommendation of the head of the department presenting a specific degree or module, refuse to accept a prospective student for any LLM programme if such a student's performance in the chosen modules or field of study during undergraduate study was not satisfactory. Alternatively, the Dean could set additional requirements with a view to admission.

An admission examination could also be required in respect of a particular module.

(b) Duration

The duration of the programme will in general be four semesters (2 years) but may be completed within two semesters (1 year) where possible, subject to fulfilment of all the requirements for the degree and payment of the full amount prescribed for the LLM degree. The maximum duration is 4 years.

(c) Curriculum

- Three modules counting 30 credits each.
- A module in research methodology (RHP 801) counting 10 credits.
- The student must submit a research proposal during his/her first year of registration for the LLM degree to the supervisor prior to commencing with the writing of the mini-dissertation.
- A mini-dissertation (MND 800) of 13 000 to 15 000 words inclusive of footnotes but excluding the list of contents and the bibliography. The mini-dissertation must be submitted to the supervisor not later than August of the second year of registration for the LLM programme. This mini-dissertation must deal with the subject content of one of the modules or a combination of the modules registered for by the student for his/her LLM degree. Any request for an extension of the period for submission of the mini-dissertation may only be granted by the Dean on recommendation of the LLM Committee.

(d) Degree with distinction

For the degree to be awarded with distinction a student must obtain an average of at least 75% for all the coursework modules together, as well as a minimum of 75% for the mini-dissertation. The modules must have been written for the first time.

DOCTOR LEGUM (LLD)

Also consult General Regulations G.45 to G.55 and G.57 to G.62.

Total number of NQF credits: 400

- (a) Subject to the stipulations of General Regulation G.1.3 and G.62, only a candidate who holds an LLM degree, or an equivalent qualification from a foreign university, may be admitted to the study for the LLD degree, except where the Faculty Council grants exemption from the above conditions.

Foreign qualifications are subject to SAQA evaluation.

A candidate will only be admitted to an LLD degree by the head of department if he/she complies with a standard of competence in applicable subjects as determined by the head of department, also taking into account the candidate's academic record and any applicable experience.

Approved candidates will be allowed to register for the LLD Preparatory Programme for one year until such a candidate meets the preparatory criteria as determined by the Dean.

A candidate will only be allowed to change from the LLD Preparatory Programme to the LLD of choice after the oral preparatory examination has been completed successfully and a research proposal has been accepted by the proposed supervisor as well as the postgraduate committee and has been approved by the Dean as recommended by the postgraduate committee.

- (b) The LLD degree is conferred by virtue of a thesis, and a presentation in defense of the thesis.
- (c) The oral preparatory examination deals with a prescribed programme of advanced study in a major subject and two subsidiary subjects as approved by the Dean.
- (d) A major subject refers to the subject, or particular field within a subject, that is recognised for the bachelor's degree and to which the thesis is closely linked. A subsidiary subject refers to a subject, or a particular field within a subject or subsection of a subject from a related field of study.
- (e) The Faculty Board may grant a candidate exemption from a part of or the whole examination referred to in (c) in cases where the Faculty Board is of the opinion that the candidate's qualifications, publications and/or other experience justify it. An application for exemption must be accompanied by a recommendation from the head of department.
- (f) Thesis: The topic of the thesis must be selected from the field of Law, and be approved by the Dean. (See G.57.4[h] and (i) for finalisation of the thesis.)
- (g) After receipt of the reports of the external examiners, the supervisor arranges an oral defence opportunity for the candidate chaired by the head of department during which the candidate is required to do a presentation in defence of the thesis. (See G.60.4.(e)[ii].)

- (h) The doctorate will be conferred on account of original research and only after work equivalent to two years of study has been completed.
