What does the programme entail?

- The Bachelor of Commerce specialising in Law degree is a three-year programme that focuses on core economic and management sciences subjects, but also includes some law modules.
- It provides a broader perspective on issues such as taxation and commercial law for those who wish to practise law in these fields.
- It offers an alternate route to the eventual attainment of an LLB degree, which is the minimum requirement for entering the organised legal profession.
- Graduates may also specialise in a field in the economic and management sciences instead of law, in which case they would register for an honours degree in the Faculty of Economic and Management Sciences.

Who are the ideal candidates?

To excel in this programme, prospective students should possess the aptitude, passion and skills required for commercial, economic, numeracy and mathematical disciplines.

The ideal candidate should have:

- Good listening and interpersonal skills
- Logical reasoning, persuasiveness and sound judgement
- Honesty and integrity
- Ability to digest and convert large volumes of information, scientific data and paperwork generated by cases
- The emotional intelligence needed to view a challenge objectively and address it proactively
- Attention to detail
- Ability to prioritise tasks and manage time effectively

What makes this programme unique?

- It caters for students who have a dual interest in business and law.
- It offers a combination of commerce and law subjects to prepare students for the law profession, but with a broad commercial academic background.
- It enables a graduate to acquire Bachelor of Laws [also referred to as LLB] within two years after completion of the Bachelor of Commerce specialising in Law degree.
- It enables students to pursue other options upon completion, depending on their specific career goals and legal fields.
- It is presented in collaboration with the UP Faculty of Law.

‘With its incredible sporting facilities and world-renowned Faculty of EMS, choosing to pursue a Bachelor of Commerce specialising in Law at the University of Pretoria was an easy decision. My experience during the three years of my undergraduate degree superseded my already high expectations of this prestigious university.

Studying for this degree has been more rewarding and fulfilling than I ever could have imagined. The degree is unique because it has allowed me to develop knowledge and skills in a variety of fields, namely law, finance, and accounting. It provides a perfect balance between challenging and enjoyable content and has equipped me both academically and socially for the working world.

I highly recommend not only the degree but also the overall university experience at UP, which has been incredible. The memories and friendships made on the Hatfield and Hillcrest campuses are ones to cherish for a lifetime. The nurturing and happy environment and the support of the UP staff, coupled with a degree I love, provided the solid foundation I needed to reach my potential, not only in my studies but also as a person.’
