The Bachelor of Science in Ecology programme explores how animals and plants interact with each other and the natural environment. It provides an opportunity to contribute to their conservation and address the challenges threatening life on Earth. This programme is ideal for those pursuing a career in biodiversity conservation, environmental consultancy, land rehabilitation, or wildlife management.

Career opportunities

As a graduate you can find employment as a conservation officer or manager, environmental consultant or manager, game ranger, research scientist, data manager and more.

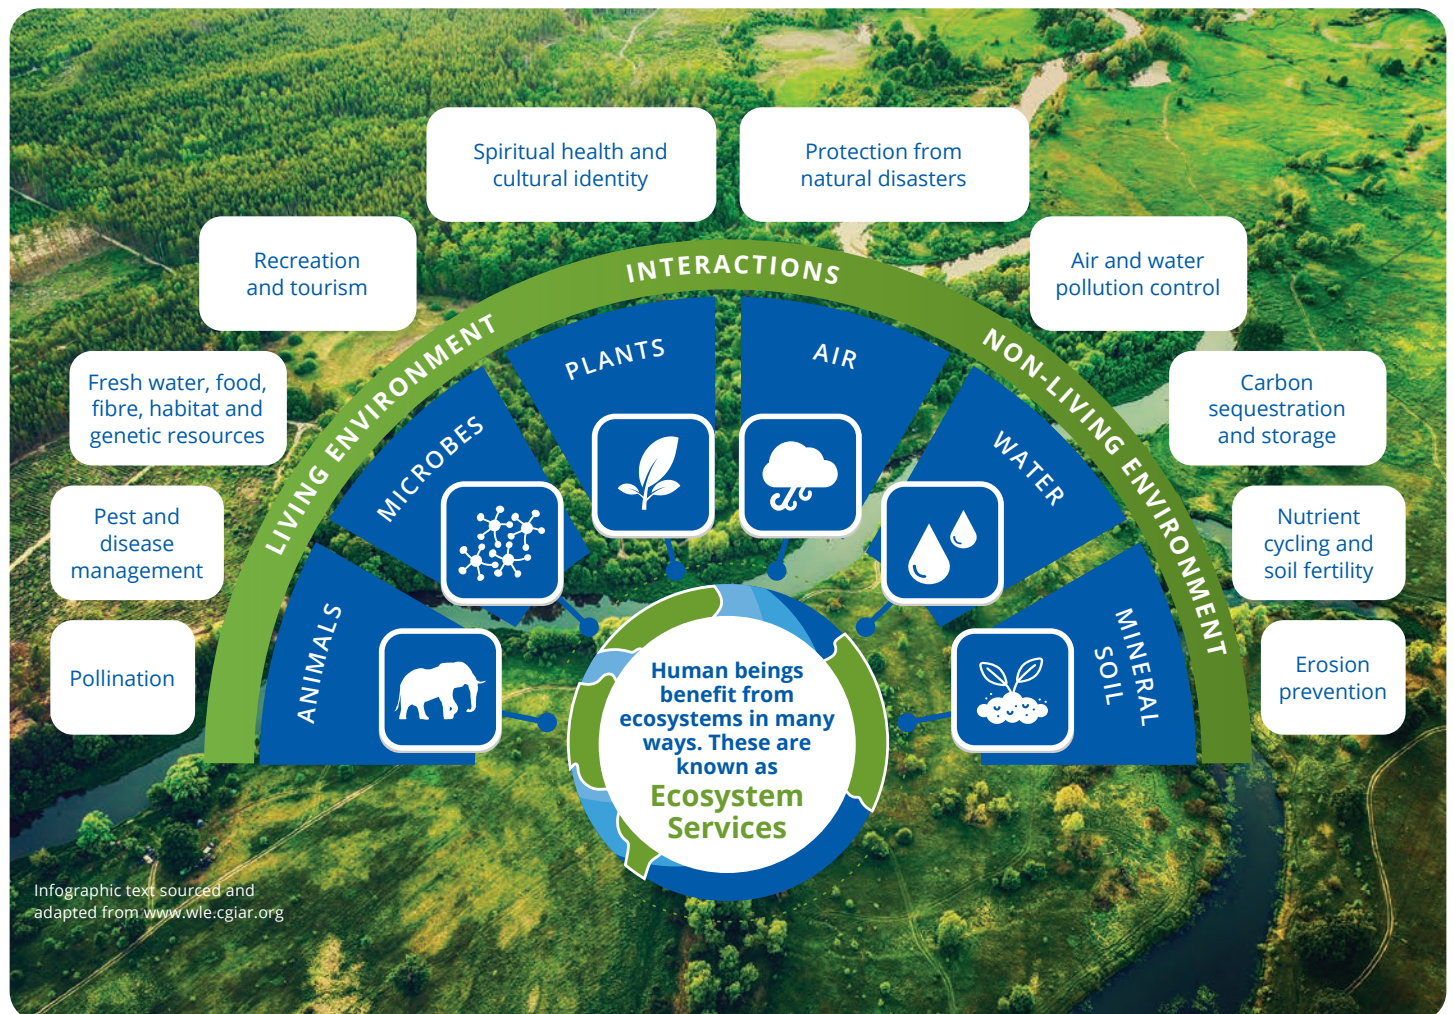

Which companies employ our graduates?

What makes this programme unique?

Bachelor of Science in Ecology is the only programme of its kind offered in South Africa and teaching is focused on animals and plants, ecology, geographic information systems and quantitative statistics.

Graduates can find employment at government agencies focused on the environment, conservation organisations, state or private game reserves, environmental consultancies, education initiatives, academic and training institutions.
