

Call for articles - Community Engagement Newsletter

We are excited to announce that the Community Engagement (CE) Newsletter is now accepting article submissions. We invite you to contribute a short article to be published in the upcoming CE newsletter.

We also encourage you to spread the word and invite your colleagues, students and community partners to submit their articles as well. Please note that the article should not exceed one (1) page in length.

To ensure a coherent and informative publication, we have provided the following guidelines for your article:

1. Provide a report on your most recent CE project
2. Describe the purpose and objectives of the project
3. Explain how both the University and your community partner have benefited from this engagement
4. Share any challenges encountered during the project and how they were successfully overcome
5. Community partners: Emphasise the connection of your project to the University of Pretoria (UP) by highlighting the department you collaborated with in CE.

For reference, you can find the previous CE newsletters at the following link: Community Engagement newsletters
