COURSE PROCEDURE

The course is presented on a modular basis over a period of 18 to 24 months. Students must re-register at the beginning of every year of study before 28 February. Lecturers will be presented through Technology-Based Distance Education. There are thus no exams and assessment that takes place through assignments submitted online.

It is possible and students are allowed to complete the programme in one year if they so wish.

Coursework modules account for 50% of the degree and the mini-dissertation 50%. A final mark of 50% for all coursework and assignments and 50% for the mini-dissertation are necessary to obtain the MCom in Financial Management.

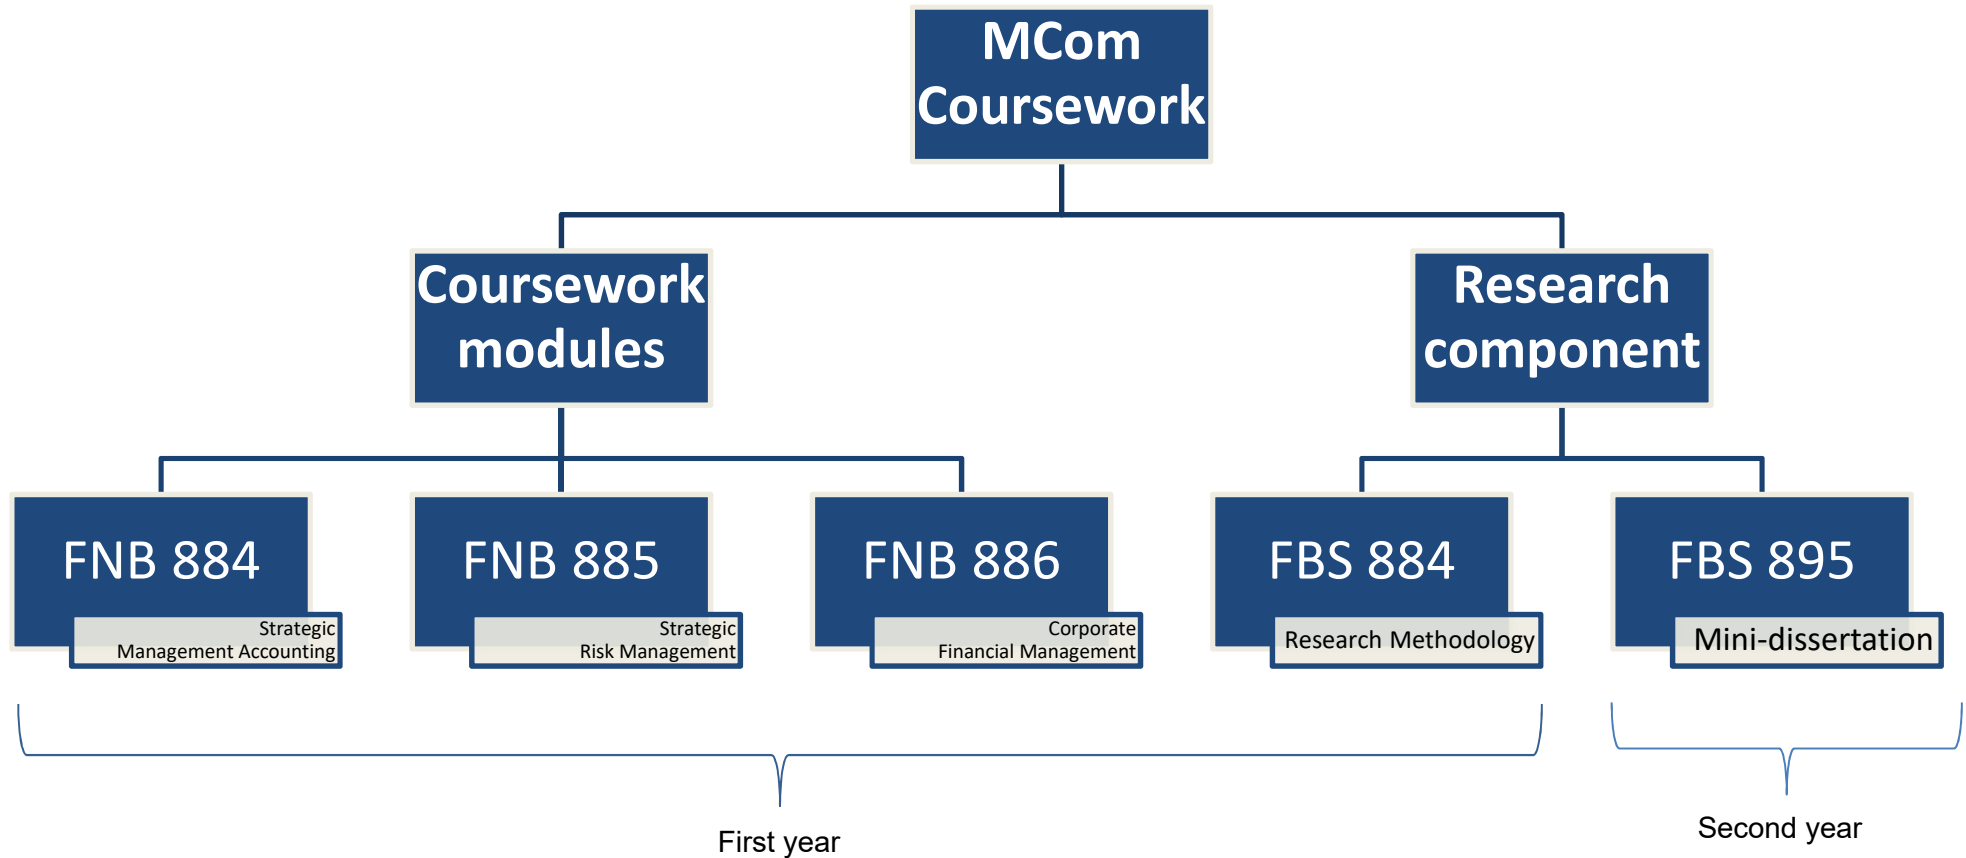

Modules for MCom: Financial Management Sciences (Course work) and the credits for this course are calculated as follows:

MODULES	CREDITS	SUBMINIMUM
FNB 884	50%	50%
FNB 885		50%
FNB 886		50%
FBS 884	Does not carry any credits Prerequisite for taking FBS895
FBS 895* Mini-dissertation	50%	50%

- * The student enrolls for FBS895 in the second year of study and finishes the mini-dissertation under the guidance of an allocated supervisor. The student must apply for ethical clearance from the Research Committee of the department before any empirical study is carried out.

CURRICULUM

The curriculum can be explained using the following diagram:

The coursework modules (FNB 884, FNB 885 and FNB 886) are presented in the first year of study in separate periods of 3 months each, starting on the first Monday in February. The coursework modules are thus completed in 9 months.

The research methodology module (FBS 884) is presented from February to September, but one can complete the assignments and deliverables in a shorter time if preferred. The outcome of the module is a research proposal. Even though it does not carry any credits, FBS 884 is a compulsory subject for the MCom Coursework in Financial Management.

The mini-dissertation (FBS 895) can be started with only after the research proposal has been accepted. Topics are provided. The mini-dissertation is typically a 25 000 word (80-page) individual report of independent research under the guidance of a supervisor. The purpose of the mini-dissertation is to demonstrate that:

- The student can plan and execute research
- The student can interpret practical context in terms of the theory presented in the courses and come to appropriate conclusions
- The student can interpret and present his/her research findings
