Compulsory contact sessions: Semester block weeks

The MPhil HRM programme is a two-year programme. All the course-work modules as well as the presentation of a research proposal have to be successfully completed by the end of Year 1 of the programme. Year 2 is reserved only for the completion of the research mini-dissertation, which must be submitted by 30 September of Year 2.

During Year 1 students attend on-campus contact sessions (which are compulsory) which are presented in block weeks (two/three weeks per semester: Monday - Friday). Class attendance calculated to approximately 45 days in Year 1. Although the contact sessions are organised in a block week format, it might be necessary to meet on extra days during the semesters as well.

Students are not allowed to spread the prescribed course-work modules over a period longer than one year. It is compulsory for students to sit for all papers as specified for the respective semester. The modules presented per semester are however decided by the DHRM Postgraduate Committee and will be communicated to the students during the introduction week at the beginning of Year 1. The order of modules presented in semesters might change from year to year.

At the beginning of each semester, lecturers will discuss the prescribed books and study material. The various lecturers will also explain specific requirements regarding the study objectives and examinations.

Attendance of all contact sessions is compulsory.

Additional contact sessions per module

Dates of additional contact sessions per module during the semester will be communicated to students at the beginning of each semester in the academic year.

Duration

A student will be permitted to register for a maximum period of two (2) years for the MPhil Human Resource Management degree. The theoretical and practical subjects have to be completed at the end of Year 1. The research mini-dissertation has to be completed and submitted for examination by 30 September (or earlier) of Year 2.

Students need to re-register at the beginning of each year and pay the full study fees every year until the course is completed.

Registration at the professional board (SABPP)

Students will be able to register at the South African Board for People Practices (SABPP www.sabpp.co.za) as Master HR Practitioners, which is the highest professional category. It is the student's responsibility to access these websites for the latest updated information concerning student registration.

Application procedure

The D-HRM aims to complete the selection process for the master's programme in a timely manner, taking into consideration the deadline stipulated by the University application process. To ease this process, it is advised that prospective students apply as early as possible, as provisional/conditional selection takes place before final acceptance into the programme. The selection committee will aim to have a provisional list of students selected for the programme by the end of November 2025. This selection is provisional, and applicants will be notified of final acceptance based on their official final academic records and marks.

Note that selection into the master's programme is based on official academic marks. It is, therefore, the responsibility of applicants to ensure that all official academic records and marks are sent to the D-HRM, as soon as they are available. It is also advisable to follow up with the department promptly if you have not received any outcome of your application by the end of January.

BEFORE starting with the application process, international applicants are referred to <https://www.up.ac.za/online-registration/article/2398818/international-students>

Currently registered UP students need to apply via the UP-Student Portal.

The application procedure for acceptance into the programme is as follows:

The closing date for the admission to the University of Pretoria is 31 August 2025 for international applicants and 30 September 2025 for South African applicants.
