

The Marine Genomics and Climate Change Lab (University of Pretoria), in collaboration with the Southern African Fisheries Ecology Research Lab at Rhodes University and University of Namibia, is looking for a PhD candidate to work on the following project:

- Genomic consequences of hybridization in the southern African kobs, including fieldwork in South Africa, Namibia and Angola – 1 PhD

Successful candidates will be invited to develop a proposal and submit an online application to the UP Doctoral Research Bursary (<https://www.up.ac.za/funding/3170711/2024-up-doctoral-research-bursary>)

Minimum requirements

- Citizens of all nationalities
- 65% for previous degree
- Background in genetics and/or biological sciences

Deadline for applications: August 24th 2023

Deadline for bursary submissions: August 31th 2023

Please send a motivation letter, CV and copy of academic transcripts to romina.henriques@up.ac.za