

Collaborative research

1

Collaborative, relevant, impactful research: The PPH aims to partner with faculties, existing centres, and institutes across the University of Pretoria; research fellows and associates linked to other universities; national and international practitioners, and policymakers to co-produce practical research with implementable solutions for societal impact.

Consultative Process

2

Consultative process & research-to-policy dialogue: The consultative processes will ensure that all relevant stakeholders take ownership of recommendations emanating from evidence-based research and subsequently act upon them (workshops, seminars, research-to-policy dialogues).

Capacity Development

3

Capacity development & executive training: Using existing expertise across the university and the knowledge created through collaborative research, the PPH will provide a range of learning opportunities for policymakers across sectors.

Influencing University
Curriculum Design

4

Influencing university curriculum design: By integrating the diverse expertise of multiple stakeholders in the research formulation process as co-producers of knowledge in an ever-changing environment, the PPH seeks to expose students and faculty staff to real-time global policy issues and real-world learning

Societal Impact

5

Societal impact: Progress will be tracked through a monitoring and impact evaluation programme to ensure societal impact and the full implementation of evidence-based policy transformation.