BACKGROUND

The Department of International Relations and Cooperation is committed to attracting, developing and retaining talented employees through various human resource interventions to ensure that DIRCO always has leadership capacity. In order to attract, develop and retain talented employees, the Department annually embarks on interventions such as career exhibitions.

On the 19th and 20th of March 2012 the Department will host the institutions of higher learning and scholars at the DIRCO CAREER FAIR. The Department and the institutions are going to disseminate information on what they are offering and give career guidance to DIRCO employees and the scholars.

The Department of International Relations and Cooperation cordially invites you to join us at the 2012 DIRCO CAREER FAIR. We have 1800 employees at head office and we are expecting 200 external participants from students and scholars. This Career Fair is an excellent opportunity for you to meet with DIRCO employees, scholars and students who are seeking more information on what you are offering and guidance or advice on what to study. You will also have the opportunity to attract prospective students to your institution. Every year the DIRCO awards bursaries to its employees and we believe your institution can have a greater number of prospective students if your offers are exhibited.

The emphasis in this Career Fair is to encourage DIRCO employees, students and scholars to enroll into your institution and for the department to attract more students from your institution. Refreshments will be offered by the Department and there won't be any charges for the stalls space. To encourage your attendance at both days of the event, we are offering a prize for the best stall and the institution that is going to have a lot of customers.
