

Embassy of France in South Africa

Masters Bursaries

2013 - 2014

The French Embassy is currently inviting South African students who wish to continue their tertiary education at Masters Level in France to apply for its bursary programme for the academic year from September 2013 -2014.

This programme forms part of the commitment between France and South Africa to establish fruitful partnerships between their universities while building a vast network of academic and professional contacts.

The duration of the grant is one year, once renewable should the student elect to continue with the Master 2 programme.

Requirements for eligibility:

- Bachelor's or Honour's degree (depending on academic year the candidate is enrolling for).
- At least three selected French institutions of the candidate's choice. Students should apply for acceptance to these universities concurrently to the bursary application (if you have not been accepted at an institution yet). It is advisable that you contact CampusFrance to assist you with this process.
- Applications from all academic disciplines will be considered.
- No knowledge of French language required (depending on the availability of English programs in the student's field and on the study program applied for).

Full bursaries

include:

- annual study fees
- round-trip airfare
- health insurance
- a monthly stipend to towards living cost
- Schengen visa fees

(Partial funding of study programmes will also be considered)

Applications deadline:
15 March 2013.
