Biography

Justice Froneman obtained a B.A. degree from the University of Stellenbosch in 1974 and an LLB degree from the University of South Africa in 1977.

After completing his pupillage at the Pretoria Bar Justice Froneman commenced practice as an advocate at the Eastern Cape Bar in Grahamstown in 1980. He obtained Senior Counsel status in 1990 and was appointed as a judge to the Eastern Cape High Court in 1994. In 1996 he was appointed as Deputy Judge President of the newly established Labour and Labour Appeal Courts, which position he held until 1999. In 2002 he acted for two terms in the Supreme Court of Appeal. In October 2009 Justice Froneman was appointed to the Constitutional Court.

Justice Froneman was an extraordinary professor in Public Law at the University of Stellenbosch from 2003 to 2008 during which he participated in the specialised LLM course in Human Rights by way of annual seminars. During periods of judicial leave he attended Harvard University (1999) and the Centre for Socio-Legal Studies, Oxford University (2008) in a visiting capacity. He has been involved in judicial training for new judges over a number of years and has also participated in practical training courses for magistrates, attorneys and advocates. Justice Froneman has given a number of public lectures and talks at academic and professional conferences and has published in a number of academic and professional publications.
