

Prof Karin van Marle

Prof Van Marle is Hoof van die Departement Regsgeskiedenis, Regsvergelyking en Regsfilosofie, en is die navorsingskoördineerder van die Fakulteit Regsgeleerdheid. Haar navorsingsbelangstellings is onder meer regsfilosofie, met die fokus op kritiese regsteorie en feministiese teorieë. Meer onlangs het sy aan die 'totstandkoming' van 'n post-apartheidsregsgeleerdheid gewerk. Sy het 'n beduidende aantal artikels in geakkrediteerde nasionale en internasionale vaktyskrifte publiseer, soos die Stellenbosch Law Review, Feminist Legal Studies, The Florida Journal of International Law en Griffiths Law Review, en sy het vier hoofstukke tot boeke bygedra. Sy is die redakteur van PULP Fictions, wat deur die University of Pretoria Law Press uitgegee word, en is op die redaksie van Law & Critique. Sy het as keurder vir talle artikels vir plaaslike vaktyskrifte opgetree, asook vir aansoeke om NNS-graderings.

In 2004 was sy die waarnemende direkteur van die Instituut vir Vroue- en Genderstudie en sy is steeds 'n lid van die instituut se dagbestuur. Sy is in 2003 as 'n Uitnemende Jong Navorser erken. In 2005 is die Statebondgenootskap aan haar toegeken en sy is sedert 2007 'n lid van die Stellenbosch Instituut vir Gevorderde Studie. Hierdie is haar eerste nominasie as Uitnemende Akademiese Presteerder.

Prof Van Marle is Head of the Department of Legal History, Comparative Law and Legal Philosophy, and is the research coordinator of the Faculty of Law. Her research interests include legal philosophy, focusing on critical legal theory and feminist theories. More recently, she has been working on the 'becoming' of a post-apartheid jurisprudence. She has published widely in national and international accredited journals, including the Stellenbosch Law Review, Feminist Legal Studies, The Florida Journal of International Law and Griffiths Law Review, and she has contributed four chapters in books. She is the editor of PULP Fictions, published by the Pretoria University Law Press, and is a member of the editorial board of Law & Critique. She has acted as referee for numerous articles for national journals, as well as for applications for NRF ratings.

She was Acting Director of the Institute for Women's and Gender Studies in 2004 and is still a member of the institute's executive committee. She was recognised as an Exceptional Young Researcher in 2003. She received the Commonwealth Fellowship in 2005 and has been a fellow of the Stellenbosch Institute for Advanced Study since 2007. This is her first nomination as an Exceptional Academic Achiever.
