- BScAgric in Agricultural Economics in Agribusiness Management

The Bachelor of Science in Agriculture in Agricultural Economics in Agribusiness Management programme provides students with an overview of the global food and agricultural sector and teaches them vital skills in business and science. These skills enable them to build careers in food and agricultural value chains, from seed to plate, and everything in between.

The Bachelor of Science in Agriculture in Agricultural Economics in Agribusiness Management programme is ideal for students who have competencies in science and business subjects and are passionate about these fields.

The programme develops problem solvers with unique skill sets who contribute to feeding and clothing the world. The programme is also the foundation to Environmental and Natural Resource Economics.

Companies, where our alumni are employed, include; commercial banks (eg ABSA, FNB, Landbank, Nedbank, and Standard Bank), insurance companies (Santam), agricultural input providers (Syngenta, Omnia, and John Deere), agricultural service providers (Afgri, NWK, TWK and VKB), agricultural producers organisations (AgriSA, Agri WC, GrainSA, Potato SA, SAPPO and VinPro), agricultural associations (Agbiz), grain trading companies (Majesty Oil, Louis Dreyfus Company and Grainvest), investment groups (Russell Stone Group), food manufacturers (Tiger Brands), government departments (Department of Agriculture, Land Reform and Rural Development and Department of Environment, Forestry and Fisheries), research institutes (Agricultural Research Council and Bureau for Food and Agricultural Policy), and international bodies (Food and Agriculture Organization and World Bank) to name a few.

Career Opportunities

ideal for students who are passionate about and have competencies in both science and business subjects. The degree programme cultivates problem solvers with unique skill sets to help feed and clothe the world. Agricultural economists are involved in many different areas of the economy. Their roles in the economy include: analysing and understanding consumer behaviour in terms of people's wants, needs and willingness to pay for food and clothing; conducting research in environmental economics to assist governments and businesses in ensuring the sustainable use of scarce resources such as water; training of smallholder farmers by providing extension services; trading of financial instruments and agricultural commodities on global and local stock markets; advising clients in the agricultural sector on how to manage their finances and risks; advising government on how to ensure that there will be enough food for all South Africans; and conducting research to ensure the sustainable and profitable supply of food and clothing across the various supply chains. Employment opportunities for agricultural economists include employment in the government, commercial banks, multinational agribusiness companies, former cooperatives, commodity trading houses, food processors and manufacturers, and research councils.

The University of Pretoria has decided not to set a specific closing date for applications to non-selection programmes for 2023. Applications will close when the available study spaces are filled (close on availability of space). Once the available number of study places for a specific programme are filled, no further applications for that particular programme will be considered. All applicants are therefore strongly advised and encouraged to submit their applications as soon as possible after 1 April 2022 and to check the application site (UP Student Portal) regularly.

The Faculty of Natural and Agricultural Sciences is home to more than 6 500 undergraduate and postgraduate students. The Faculty presents degrees in fields ranging from the proverbial A to Z – from actuaries to zoologists, and consists of 13 departments.

All degree programmes are designed to develop problem-solving individuals who can easily adapt to changing circumstances and take the lead in their chosen fields of specialisation. The qualifications awarded are of world-class and provide access to a multitude of career opportunities for dynamic and creative people. According to the latest Times Higher Education World University Rankings the University has achieved new world rankings in Physical Sciences, a discipline which features strongly in NAS and also maintains excellent positions on the ISI Web of Science (WOS) field rankings in Plant and Animal Sciences, Agricultural Sciences, and Environment and Ecology Sciences.

In the Faculty of Natural and Agricultural Sciences, we strive to continuously improve our high impact research and significantly address the national shortage of PhD graduates that respond to global and local challenges.
