- BCom specialising in Supply Chain Management

Supply chain management is a systems approach to managing the entire flow of materials, information, services and finance from suppliers of raw materials to factories, warehouses and ultimately to the end users.

The Bachelor of Commerce specialising in Supply Chain Management degree equips students with the ability to participate in functional management in an integrated supply chain. The programme includes the following disciplines:

- Supply management
- Production and operations management
- Warehousing
- Transport management
- Supply chain strategy

The Department of Business Management at UP is the only European Logistics Association (ELA) National Certification Centre (NCC) in Sub-Saharan Africa. This degree is accredited at Level 4: Candidate European Junior Logistician (cEJLog), which is based on the European Logistics Association Qualifications Framework Standards agreed by industry.

ELA candidates are awarded a certificate that is a global mark of competence and promotes mobility in an international marketplace. This qualification offers graduates a smooth path to full ELA certification once the relevant experience has been gained.

The ideal candidates for this programme are:
