- BCom Law

The Bachelor of Commerce Law degree is a three-year programme that focuses on core economic and management sciences subjects, but also includes some law modules. It provides a broader perspective on issues such as taxation and commercial law for those who wish to practise law in these fields. It offers an alternate route to the eventual attainment of a Bachelor of Laws degree [also referred to as LLB], which is the minimum requirement for entering the organised legal profession. Graduates may also specialise in a field in the economic and management sciences instead of law, in which case they would register for an honours degree in the Faculty of Economic and Management Sciences.

This programme caters for students who have a dual interest in business and law. It offers a combination of commerce and law subjects to prepare students for the law profession, but with a broad commercial academic background. It enables a graduate to acquire a Bachelor of Laws [also referred to as LLB] within two years after completion of the Bachelor of Commerce Law degree. It enables students to pursue other options upon completion, depending on their specific career goals and legal fields. It is jointly presented with the UP Faculty of Law.

To excel in this programme, prospective students should possess the aptitude, passion and skills required for commercial, economic, numeracy and mathematical disciplines.

The ideal candidate should have:

- Good listening and interpersonal skills
- Logical reasoning, persuasiveness and sound judgement
- Honesty and integrity
- Ability to digest and convert large volumes of information, scientific data and paperwork generated by cases
- The emotional intelligence needed to view a challenge objectively and address it proactively
- Attention to detail
- Ability to prioritise tasks and manage time effectively
