Module content

This elective is designed to introduce students to the theory and practice of Competitive intelligence, including its activity (or processes), organisational structure, and 'products' (i.e. deliverables). In short: What is intelligence? How does it differ from market research and other, more conventional, streams of management information? What are its key roles? How does the intelligence function work? How is it structured in a corporate environment? What added-value does it deliver to business decision-makers?

The regulations and rules for the degrees published here are subject to change and may be amended after the publication of this information.

The General Academic Regulations \(G Regulations\) and General Student Rules apply to all faculties and registered students of the University, as well as all prospective students who have accepted an offer of a place at the University of Pretoria. On registering for a programme, the student bears the responsibility of ensuring that they familiarise themselves with the General Academic Regulations applicable to their registration, as well as the relevant faculty-specific and programme-specific regulations and information as stipulated in the relevant yearbook. Ignorance concerning these regulations will not be accepted as an excuse for any transgression, or basis for an exception to any of the aforementioned regulations.
