Module content

The elective aims to offer to those students who wish to follow a career in the investment's management arena, as either a fund manager or a research analyst, the soft and hard skills necessary to compete and justify your views in a very competitive space. The course investigates the major determinants of investment return - asset allocation, market timing, and security selection. In addition, the course considers recent developments in the hedge fund and mutual fund industry. In today's tough economic climate successful executives must be able to apply vigorous analysis as they evaluate business performance and assess global competition.

The regulations and rules for the degrees published here are subject to change and may be amended after the publication of this information.

The General Academic Regulations \(G Regulations\) and General Student Rules apply to all faculties and registered students of the University, as well as all prospective students who have accepted an offer of a place at the University of Pretoria. On registering for a programme, the student bears the responsibility of ensuring that they familiarise themselves with the General Academic Regulations applicable to their registration, as well as the relevant faculty-specific and programme-specific regulations and information as stipulated in the relevant yearbook. Ignorance concerning these regulations will not be accepted as an excuse for any transgression, or basis for an exception to any of the aforementioned regulations.
