Module content

This module focuses on community engagement, gender-based issues and teamwork. The One Health, One Welfare concept is applied in the community engagement context. The principles of dog population management are introduced. Veterinary communication skills and marketing are further developed within the context of the veterinary practice and the community setting, in particular engaging with learners and teachers in schools. The skills learnt in this and previous modules are applied practically in a group assignment involving a community-based activity.

The regulations and rules for the degrees published here are subject to change and may be amended after the publication of this information.

The General Academic Regulations \(G Regulations\) and General Student Rules apply to all faculties and registered students of the University, as well as all prospective students who have accepted an offer of a place at the University of Pretoria. On registering for a programme, the student bears the responsibility of ensuring that they familiarise themselves with the General Academic Regulations applicable to their registration, as well as the relevant faculty-specific and programme-specific regulations and information as stipulated in the relevant yearbook. Ignorance concerning these regulations will not be accepted as an excuse for any transgression, or basis for an exception to any of the aforementioned regulations.
