Prerequisites	No prerequisites.
Contact time	16 contact hours
Language of tuition	Module is presented in English
Department	Gordon Institute of Business Science
Period of presentation	Semester 1 or Semester 2

Module content

This module helps students to conceptualise a research design. It covers how the choice of a research design relates to the chosen analytic method (Qualitative Research, Quantitative Research or Mixed Methods). Students are expected to relate the business challenge to the research design and to justify the selection of a given design for a given problem. The objectives of the module are to help students: make informed decisions about their research design; and understand the implications of selecting a given research design in particular around the questions that can be answered.

Principles of quantitative research 803 (GIG 803)

More specifically the module intends to provide students with an understanding of the philosophies underlying quantitative research, a selection of research methods used to collect primary data for a quantitative research study and to ensure that they are able to draw a sample to collect quantitative data from respondents. The module also attempts to equip students with the ability to develop a conceptual model in order to illustrate the proposed relationships between variables and equip students with skills to analyse quantitative data.

Principles of qualitative research 804 (GIG 804)

More specifically the module intends to provide students with an understanding of the philosophies underlying qualitative research and introduces research designs which are consistent with them. Students will learn how to construct a sample in qualitative research and to develop appropriate instruments, as well as developing the skills to use a selection of research methods, for collecting primary data. Finally, students will learn about qualitative data analysis.

Integrated research design 805 (GIG 805)

Module content

This module aims to help students apply the principles of evidence-based management in an integrative way to the business challenge they have identified. This requires demonstrating how business challenges are better understood with the use of theory or models, measurement concepts and methods, qualitative and/or quantitative modes of observation, identifying causes, the logic of control variables, and the design of experiments and quasi-experiments. Students will also be required to communicate these complex ideas in a language that is deemed credible by scholars, but nonetheless accessible to business audiences.

University of Pretoria Programme Qualification Mix (PQM) verification project

The higher education sector has undergone an extensive alignment to the Higher Education Qualification Sub-Framework (HEQSF) across all institutions in South Africa. In order to comply with the HEQSF, all institutions are legally required to participate in a national initiative led by regulatory bodies such as the Department of Higher Education and Training (DHET), the Council on Higher Education (CHE), and the South African Qualifications Authority (SAQA). The University of Pretoria is presently engaged in an ongoing effort to align its qualifications and programmes with the HEQSF criteria. Current and prospective students should take note that changes to UP qualification and programme names, may occur as a result of the HEQSF initiative. Students are advised to contact their faculties if they have any questions.
